Preparing A Sales Plan

Planning for sales success

All of us in sales, if we are to be truly successful, must recognize the need for sales planning and be able to produce a sales plan for ourselves whether as salesperson, or sales manager.

The sales planning cycle can be described as follows:

1. Set objectives
2. Identify resources
3. Produce plan
4. Implement plan
5. Review results and amend plan

Preparing A Sales Plan

Objectives need to be SMART

- Specific
- Measurable
- Agreed
- Realistic
- Time bound

A simple example could be the objective to sell 100,000 worth of Product X in the twelve months commencing 1 April.

Other objectives could relate to market share, market penetration, the proportion of turnover in relation to key accounts, sales activity levels, profitability targets etc.

Preparing A Sales Plan

Resources need to be included in the sales plan, as it may be necessary to recruit or bring in additional resources for particular targets to be met.

Also production capacity will need to be taken into consideration.

The plan itself needs to be flexible and to take into account any likely changes in the market, unforeseen factors (such as staff turnover and recruitment) that reoccur and any other external factors that could affect achievement of the overall objectives.

Once the plan begins to be implemented it needs to be reviewed on a regular basis and changes made to the original plan as circumstances dictate.

Remember, sales plans cannot be written in stone and need to be flexible enough to deal with those unforeseen circumstances that affect all businesses.

Preparing A Sales Plan

A typical sales plan should include the following sections:

Sales Objectives.

Short, medium and long term objectives that relate to the objectives of the overall business. Resources.

This should include details of key players in the team, sales budgets, equipment etc. Market Analysis.

A review of the market which looks at the market now and in the future.

This can include analysis of competitor activity and an analysis of existing Accounts.

Preparing A Sales Plan

Product Range.

The range of products or services available for sale, new products to be introduced, and old products to be discontinued.

The likely ratio of volumes of each product that is expected to be sold.

Activity Analysis. Review of targeted activity levels by salesperson and by product.

Statement of Key Ratios and average lead times. Training Plan.

A training needs analysis of the individual/team that relates directly to objectives.

Preparing A Sales Plan

Resources Requirements.

Cost Benefits analysis of resources, manpower,
equipment,
finance etc.,
required to achieve sales objectives.

SECTION 3. Market analysis

Key issues affecting my market are:

1. 60% of my business is currently with 1 customer, ABC Limited
2. There is potential to expand our business within the educational and local authority sectors
3. There are 6 direct competitors in our area, 2 of which present a real threat to our key accounts
4. Most of our business has traditionally been with full color printing and medium sized black and white photocopying work. There are opportunities to develop more into areas such as color copying and design, and to go for the larger black and white copying jobs, using the resources of neighboring business partners with high volume copier

SECTION 3.

5. Several larger businesses in the area have outsourced their photocopying and printing and there are opportunities to further expand this market sector
6. The local authority has attracted 3 major businesses into the area in the last 4 years and we need to be winning business from these companies who currently use competitors
7. We are aiming to concentrate more on Training Companies and Training Departments within companies following our success with Delta training last year.

Our aim is to manage the production of their training materials and to hold the data in-house for quick turnaround and amendment of the content of the training materials

Quotations : orders 1 : 2

Conversion rates: Quotations : orders 1 : 3 Visits : quotations 1 : 2 Quotations to generate 120 Visits required 240 Total activity 440 per annum This allows for approximately 10 new business visits a week, assuming 44 working weeks, of which around 50% are to see existing customers and 50% potential customers. Preparing A Sales Plan

SECTION 8. Sales strategy

The first stage of the process of implementing this plan is to present it to my manager and get her agreement to my requests for additional resources and acceptance of the overall plan.

I will begin by agreeing appointments with my top 20 accounts and agree a schedule of visits for the year.

I will set aside one day a week for appointment booking and sales follow ups.

I will also contact the top 50 accounts and agree a regular schedule of 6 weekly meetings.

I will source an external telesales company to help with our telemarketing within the next 4 weeks.

I will plan a series of targeted marketing activities aimed at getting appointments with educational and local authorities. The target for this is to put together a plan and implement it within the next 4 months.

Preparing A Sales Plan

SECTION 8. Sales strategy

I will negotiate agreements with neighboring companies with high volume capacity and then plan a marketing exercise aimed at our top 100 customers within the next 3 months.

I will produce a hit list of 30 potential companies who currently use competitors and contact these in the next quarter.

Prior to this I will discuss with my manager possible incentives to help win their business.

I will aim to meet my target of 10 new business visits per week to existing and potential customers.

I will also aim to achieve the target of 5 follow up visits. If there are no follow up visits in a particular week I will use the time saved for prospecting.

I will contact all training companies on my territory over the next 3 months with an offer of managing their training materials.

I will aim to review this plan at my monthly sales meeting with my manager and amend it as necessary
