LVG Spotlight

As the end of summer rapidly approaches, LVG has been looking at ways to help parents prepare for the “virtual semester” in September. We have tutors available for parents who are looking to improve their ability with virtual learning and/or sharpen their math, science, social studies, and/or language arts skills given the new challenges of having children attending school in a virtual setting this fall. Learning can be done from the comfort and safety of home and these services are provided at no cost to the learner!

Board Notes

Would you like to be involved in initiatives that bring positive change to your community? Are you ready to test your hand in a non-profit leadership setting? Do you want to help LVG achieve it’s mission, but you aren’t interested in tutoring or volunteering at an event? If so, contact us about becoming an at-large board member! The LVG board, a group of volunteers providing organizational leadership, meets once a month (currently virtually via Zoom) and communicates throughout the month, working to better equip adults for tomorrow!
