COMMUNITY NEWS

Atlanta wins! New Falcons stadium will host Super Bowl

It's official! The Super Bowl is returning to Atlanta. NFL owners selected the new Mercedes-Benz Stadium to host the Super Bowl in 2019. "At the end of the day, our community is built to host these big events," Atlanta Sports Council Executive Director Dan Corso told FOX 5 on Monday, ahead of the announcement. "Atlanta has truly transformed since the last time we hosted a Super Bowl."(Ga Trend)

Atlanta takes up brewpub growlers

Following the lead of Alpharetta and Sandy Springs, the Atlanta City Council may soon consider an ordinance allowing brewpubs to sell take-home beer in the form of growlers to their customers. The measure out of the Public Safety & Legal Administration Committee, sponsored by Council Members Lee Young Jr. and Kwanza Hall, recognizes that "it is a benefit to the local economy for locally owned and operated brewpubs to be able to sell their locally manufactured beer and malt beverages for consumption on premises and in retail form," and amends Atlanta liquor ordinances to allow retail sales of growlers and packages. (Ga Trend)

Coca-Cola stops production in country due to sugar shortage

Atlanta-based The Coca-Cola Co. (NYSE: KO) is stopping production in Venezuela of the company's flagship beverage due to a sugar shortage. The shortage is caused by the country's economic crisis, reports The Wall Street Journal. Local suppliers reported they had run out of the raw material, Coca-Cola said in a statement released Friday. Ford recalls 270K trucks over brake leak issue

(RNN) - Ford Motor Company issued a recall Wednesday to fix a braking issue affecting about 270,000 vehicles.

The defect causes the brake master cylinder to leak fluid into the brake booster, which could reduce braking effectiveness and cause a crash.

Nine accidents with no injuries allegedly are connected to the flaw, Ford said, but one injury was reported allegedly "involving interaction with the vehicle's brakes but not associated with an accident," Ford said. Affected vehicles include some 2013-2014 Ford F-150 vehicles equipped with 3.5-liter GTDI engines built at Dearborn Truck Plant, Aug. 1, 2013 through Aug. 22, 2014; and Kansas City Assembly Plant, Aug. 1, 2013 through Aug. 31, 2014.

Ford said 270,873 vehicles were affected, including 225,012 in the U.S. and territories, 43,682 in Canada and 402 in Mexico.

Dealers will replace the brake master cylinder at no cost. Dealers also will replace the brake booster if they find leaks.

Microsoft slashes nearly 2,000 jobs as its smartphone business crumbles

Microsoft is taking an ax to its smartphone business.

The American tech company is cutting nearly 2,000 jobs, it announced Wednesday, including 1,350 from Finland as it ceases phone design and production in the country.(Flipboard)

Georgia sues Obama administration over transgender directive

Greg Bluestein reports that Georgia sued the Obama administration Wednesday over a directive to public schools over transgender bathroom rules, joining a group of 11 states challenging the federal government over the controversial guidelines. It was a surprising move from state leaders, who last week blasted the guidance that directed public schools to allow transgender students to use bathrooms

D-Day

The 6th of June, 1944, D-Day, The Longest Day, when Allied Forces invaded the Normandy Beaches of France to begin the final liberation of Europe from Nazi Germany. Much has been written about this day and the events, but some facts lurk in the background. The two beaches which fell to the Americans to take were code named Utah and Omaha. The 4th Infantry Division drew Utah Beach. The 29th and 1st Infantry Divisions got Omaha. But, why the 4th and why the 29th? Both were untested in combat. General Eisenhower picked them because of exactly that fact. They had no firsthand knowledge what they were going to be up against. Not knowing what was ahead of them he felt would lead to a better combat performance. He was worried that the 1st Infantry Division, veterans of North Africa, Sicily, might not have the courage to withstand another dreadful assault. It was a calculated risk.

Everything did not go as intended. It never does. Men were seasick. Landing craft landed at the wrong places. The flying weather was far from ideal, so that fighter-bombers dropped their payloads too far in-land rather than take the risk of bombing American troops. Tanks failed to arrive. Radios were lost or waterlogged. Men drowned after being dropped too far off the beaches. Naval gunfire was inaccurate. Thirty percent of the first wave of assault troops at Omaha were either killed or wounded in the first hour. It was chaos. Yet we kept on. More troops, more tanks, more personal courage. As the sun set, we had landed 155,000 soldiers and we controlled 80 square kilometers of France. Not a lot, but just enough to keep going forward. It was The Longest Day.

That's my story and I'm stick 'in to it.

Reward Offered in McDonough Firearms Burglary

MCDONOUGH, Ga. – The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (ATF) and the National Shooting Sports Foundation (NSSF), the trade association for the firearms industry, are seeking information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible for the burglary and theft of firearms from American Heritage Gun Range and Training Center, in McDonough, Ga. ATF is offering a reward up to $2,500, which will be matched by the NSSF for a total reward up to $5,000.

This theft of firearms occurred in the early morning hours on May 18, 2016, at 775 Hwy 42 North, McDonough, Ga. This is the second burglary from this location in the past thirty days. The sixty-six firearms that are unaccounted for pose a potential danger to citizens' communities and quality of life. ATF is soliciting the public's assistance with any information that leads to those responsible for this crime.

Anyone with information about this crime should contact the ATF Gun Hotline at 1-800-ATF-GUNS (283-4867). Callers may remain anonymous.

Music has been called "the universal language." Wherever there are people there is music. It seems to come from the very nature of man. Every tribe on every continent has had musicians that make their own type of music. It is different from place to place, from being as irritating as fingernail on a chalk board to sounding like the "voices of angels."

The first "recognized" musician was Jabal who is mentioned in Genesis 4:21. He was the "father" of all who played the harp and flute. And music was very important to Moses and the Children of Israel. One of their earliest songs is introduced in Exodus 15:1 - "I will sing to the Lord, for He is highly exalted."

Music has always played an important role in the history of Christianity. In fact, before the followers of Christ met to worship God the choirs of heaven sang on the night that Christ was born. And Jesus Himself led His followers in singing a hymn of praise before going to Gethsemane!

Pliny was commissioned by a Roman Emperor to investigate the belief and behavior of Christians. He reported, "They have a custom of meeting before dawn on an appointed day, and singing hymns to Christ."

Although music is everywhere, why is the music of God's children different? David said, "I will sing and make music!" immediately after he found a new steadfastness, or confidence, in God's grace. That's why!

For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but to save the world through him.

John 3:17 NIV

Military Truisms

- "Aim towards the Enemy." [Instruction printed on US rocket launcher]
- When the pin is pulled, Mr. Grenade is no longer our friend. [From a US Field Manual]
- Cluster bombing from B-52s is very, very accurate. The bombs always hit the ground.
- Whoever said the pen is mightier than the sword obviously never encountered automatic weapons.
- Don't ever be the first, don't ever be the last, and don't ever volunteer to do anything.
- If your attack is going too well, you are walking into an ambush.
- If you find yourself in a fair fight, you didn't plan your mission properly.
- Don't draw fire; it irritates the people around you.
- No combat-ready unit has ever passed inspection.
- Any ship can be a minesweeper once.
- If the enemy is in range, so are you.
- Tracers work both ways.
- Friendly fire isn't.
- Five second fuses only last three seconds.
- Never share a foxhole with anyone braver than you are.
- The problem with taking the easy way out is that the enemy has already mined it.
- Incoming fire has the right of way.
- The quartermaster has only two sizes: too large and too small.
- If you can see the enemy, he can see you.
- And never tell your Platoon Sergeant you have nothing to do.

- Pepper
- Salt

Directions:

The peppers, I opted for one of each color. It looks so colorful. Hence the name

Turn the bell peppers into rings. Make sure you remove all the seeds first.

Slice the onions in half rings.

Season the chicken with salt and pepper.

I've combined 1 1/2 tbsp oil with 1 tbsp butter. Contrary to what you might think this does not raise the smoke point—major misconception—but it will give a richer flavor to your dish.

Lightly brown the chicken.

Transfer the chicken to an oven dish.

Add the onion to the skillet. I didn't use more oil or butter, in case you were wondering.

Once the onion rings are all soft and yummy, you transfer them to the oven dish as well. Make sure there's also onion underneath the chicken.

Time for the bell peppers to get a slight tan. Cook them until they're slightly pliable and add them to the oven dish as well. Get some underneath the chicken!

Add the grated garlic to the skillet and cook for 30 seconds before pouring in the water and diced tomatoes.

Stir well. Add the Italian herbs. Crumble up the vegetable bouillon cube and season with pepper, salt and a pinch of nutmeg.

Pour in half a cup of cream.

Stir to combine.

Simmer the sauce, over low heat, for 5 minutes. Pour it all over the chicken and vegetables. Cover the tray with aluminum foil.

Place the chicken in a preheated oven and bake at 400F for 30 minutes.

Once those 30 minutes are up, grate some good melting cheese. Sprinkle it all over the chicken and place it back in the oven, uncovered, for another 15 minutes. Until the cheese has melted.

Serve it with spaghetti and/or crusty bread. Then eat it and weep!
