Silent Circle's Blackphone 2 Retains Sharp Focus on Privacy, Security

The security-focused Blackphone—is ready to follow up on its initial success with a new device appropriately named the Blackphone 2. Announced at Mobile World Congress in Barcelona, Spain, on March 2, the Blackphone 2 has the same emphasis on data privacy and security as its predecessor. The Blackphone 2 includes the same basic design as its predecessor but adds some new hardware components and integration with key enterprise-focused solutions to try to attract corporate customers. Silent Circle struck a chord in mobile device users by offering a smartphone that addressed users' concerns about hackers, cyber-criminals and even national governments tapping into their data streams. That helped the company suddenly pop up on the mobile market radar screen, with its first secure mobile phone generating strong demand in 2014. But it will be the Blackphone 2's turn to try to keep the sales momentum going through 2015. Source: eweek.com

Microsoft Intros Foldable Keyboard for Windows, iOS, Android Devices

Need to type out a lengthy email or document? This summer, Microsoft will release a compact keyboard for smartphones and tablets that supports practically all mobile platforms. Touch-screens have helped change the face of enterprise mobility, but some users still prefer a traditional keyboard for writing documents and performing tasks that require more than a few virtual key presses. Hung jury in Jodi Arias sentencing phase removes possibility of death sentence

The jury in the Jodi Arias case tasked with deciding whether she should be sentenced to life in prison or death for killing her lover nearly seven years ago was unable to agree on terms of sentencing Thursday, removing the possibility of a death sentence.

The judge declared a mistrial and will sentence Arias to either life in prison or a life term with the possibility of release after 25 years.

It marked the second time a jury has deadlocked on her punishment -- a disappointment for prosecutors who argued for the death penalty during the nearly seven-year legal battle against Arias.

Arias was convicted of murder in 2013 after a lengthy trial that became a sensation with its tawdry revelations about her relationship with victim Travis Alexander.

The victim's sister, Samantha Alexander, sobbed in court while the decision was announced.

The jurors deliberated for 26.5 hours over a five-day span. Earlier this week, Arias' attorneys said jurors were at an impasse, but the judge denied a mistrial request. A verdict does not rule out the possibility of a hung jury.

Arias stabbed and slashed Alexander nearly 30 times, slit his throat so deeply that she nearly decapitated him, and shot him in the forehead. She left his body in his shower at his suburban Phoenix home where friends found him about five days later.

She initially denied having anything to do with the killing. She later admitted that she killed Alexander but claimed it was self-defense after he attacked her. Prosecutors said it was premeditated murder carried out in a jealous rage after he wanted to end their affair and planned a trip to Mexico with another woman.

Driving around the northern part of Brooks County this week one could not help but notice that the peach trees are blooming and that means that winter is just about over in South Georgia and peach season is just around the bend, so to speak and so is festival time. To start off on the 14th of March will be the 8th annual Gilliard's Day at Gilliard's Store half way between Pelham and Cairo, from 10am to 6pm, food, arts and crafts, gunslinger demonstration and fun for the whole family, I have never been but I am going this year, (they have great sausage). Back in Brooks County in April will be the 12 Mile Yard Sale and Festival between Pavo and Boston, it will be the 10th Annual 12 Mile Festival which will be held at the old school in Pavo, last year it rained but this year promises to be clear and sunny. In May we have two festivals starting in Pavo with the 28th Pavo Peacock Day festival held the second Saturday of the month followed by the 28th Peach Festival in Morven which will be the third Saturday in May. It takes a lot of planning to make these festivals happen so mark them on your calendar and take the family for some good food and lots of fun.

Charging your Cell Phone MYTH, Any Charger, Even An Off-Brand Model, Will Work

While it may be tempting to try and save money by purchasing an off-brand charger for your phone, the damage it can do over time might make you think twice. The fact of the matter is that it is always best to use the charger that came with your device, even if you can find another cheaper model that still technically works.

Experts caution against off-brand chargers for one simple reason: they are "not built with safety in mind." This means there is a far greater chance of these chargers causing a fire, or harming your battery, than there is with your phone's proper charger

BLOND JOKE

There was a blonde who just got sick and tired of all the blonde jokes. One evening, she went home and memorized all the state capitals. Back in the office the next day, some guy started telling a dumb blonde joke. She interrupted him with a shrill announcement, "I've had it up to here with these blonde jokes. I want you to know that this blonde went home last night and did something probably none of you could do. I memorized all the state capitals." One of the guys, of course, said, "I don't believe you. What is the capital of Nevada?" "N," she answered.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

When the first railroad was built in Russia, the Czar wanted train tracks to be laid from Moscow to another city that he enjoyed visiting.

"Where do you want me to lay the tracks?" asked the engineer, unrolling a map before him.

After thinking for a moment, the Czar took a ruler and drew a straight line across the map from Moscow to that particular city and said loudly, "There!"

The Lord has drawn a "straight line." We find it in His Word. It is a line that begins at our feet, goes to the cross and ends with Him in heaven. But that line is often difficult to follow. Even for David.

"I acknowledged my sin to You and did not cover up my iniquity," he wrote. Acknowledging this "sin" must have been difficult for him to confess because he said, "Day and night Your hand was heavy upon me." He could find no relief from his sin and God would not give him any relief. "Day and night your hand was heavy on me."

When we sin and do not repent or ask God for His forgiveness, we can expect - and be thankful for - His "heavy hand on" us. Sometimes we "feel" His hand when we are emotionally unsettled, going through a period of sickness or sensing feelings of alienation. How fortunate we are to know that this is God speaking to us, trying to get our attention because He wants us to "confess our sins" so He can remove our guilt, restore His peace and renew our relationship with Him.

Fast Goulash Macaroni

Ingredients:

- 1 box macaroni and cheese
- 1 lb. hamburger
- 1 can chili, hot

Directions:

Prepare macaroni and cheese according to package directions, except melt the butter in the pan.

Then mix in the cheese, followed by the milk. Stir until smooth, then add the macaroni and mix thoroughly. This will make creamier mac and cheese, and the cheese will be more evenly distributed.

While preparing mac and cheese, brown hamburger in skillet and heat chili in saucepan. When all ingredients are prepared, mix the hamburger and chili into the mac and cheese. Serve hot.
