Ga. parents offended by the 'Far East religion' of yoga, get 'Namaste' banned from school

When administrators at Bullard Elementary School in Kennesaw, Ga., implemented yoga and other mindfulness practices in the classroom to reduce students' stress, they likely envisioned peace and relaxation in their future. Instead, they received a flurry of complaints — from parents who felt yoga represented the encroachment of non-Christian beliefs. (Ga Trend)

Families willing to break law to get medical marijuana

Civil disobedience is as American as baseball, but the writer Henry David Thoreau could never have imagined what issues would inspire such symbolic acts come the 21st century. For example, Georgia parents who treat their children with cannabis oil to manage seizures, including several in Hall County and Northeast Georgia, are publicly stating that they are willing to break the law, if necessary, to acquire cannabis oil. In Picture left to right: University of Georgia Provost Pamela Whitten, University of Georgia-Brooks County ANR/CEC agent Stephanie Hollifield, University of Georgia associate dean for Extension Dr. Laura Perry Johnson

On March 17, Stephanie Hollifield, UGA/Brooks County Extension ANR Agent/CEC, had the opportunity to visit with University of Georgia Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost Pamela Whitten. Provost Whitten was visiting UGA Tifton Campus-Tifton, GA with Dr. Laura Perry Johnson, associate dean for Extension, to learn more about UGA research and Cooperative Extension. Stephanie met Provost Whitten and Dr. Johnson along with Dr. Phillip Roberts and Dr. Jared Whitaker, at UGA Cotton Micro Gin, to discuss the importance of research conducted and delivery of UGA research based information to agriculture producers. Stephanie utilized this valuable time with Provost Whitten to highlight the importance of Brooks

County agriculture producers to the state's economy. Stephanie discussed Brooks County commercial agriculture production, the high quality of Brooks County agriculture commodities, and valuable economic impact of Brooks County agriculture. Stephanie provided Provost Whitten with information that gave a brief history of Brooks County agriculture and the current important role that Brooks County agriculture contributes to our state. Also, thanks to Thompson Farm Smokehouse, Stephanie presented Provost Whitten and Dr. Johnson with gift bags that contained a variety of Thompson Farm products. Brooks County Extension appreciates Thompson Farm Smokehouse's contribution to Provost Whitten's visit to South Georgia.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

Michael A. Guido, D.D.
Metter, Georgia

"Don't worry about the sweet by-and-by," said the president of the university I attended years ago. "That will be here soon enough. God has promised it and that's all we need to know. As sure as God has kept His Word in the past He will honor it today, tomorrow and every day, from now until the sweet by-and-by is here. What we need to worry about is the nasty now-and-now."

That goes with the phrase we often hear: "Some people are so heavenly minded that they are no earthly good."

While being concerned about and planning for the future makes good sense, we need to be much more concerned about what we might do every moment of every hour to honor God every day. With that thought in mind, David said, "But I call to God, and the Lord saves me. Evening, morning and at noon I cry out in distress and He hears my voice."

Notice his priorities: He would not retire at night without going to God in prayer, asking for His forgiveness, peace and protection so he might rest well and be at ease with God. Nor would he begin his day without asking God to guide him and guard him and give him His power and protection. And then - right in the middle of the day - he would stop everything and go to his Lord in prayer. He needed His help in the "now!"

Prayer, for David, was not a trivial ritual. It was his life - his source of strength. "I cry out...He hears!"

EGGS

Hi, this is Roxie Price, Family and Consumer Sciences Agent with UGA Extension in Tift County.

We will soon have a refrigerator full of boiled eggs. So how long do we keep them? How long did you hunt them? Did they get cracked during the process?

These are all important questions to ask yourself before you eat those nutritious hard boiled Easter Eggs.

The eggs should have been hunted for no longer than 2 hours and then placed back in the refrigerator.

If any of the eggs are chipped or cracked do not use them for hunting. If some eggs were cracked during the hunt, those should be thrown out. Even the smallest crack can let bacteria in.

Now, if you were careful with the eggs and you believe they are safe to eat, how long should you keep them in the refrigerator?

Hard cooked eggs can be safely stored in the refrigerator for 7 days. Do include these as healthy snacks in your diet. They are a good source of protein and only have 70 calories per egg.

This has been Roxie Price, Family and Consumer Sciences Agent with UGA Extension in Tift County.

Penne a la Vodka

What You'll Need:

- 4 Tbsp. extra virgin olive oil
- 1 lb. sweet Italian sausage, cut into 1" slices
- 1 lb. hot Italian sausage, cut into 1" slices
- 4 cups thinly sliced onions
- 1 3/4 tsp. salt
- 3/4 tsp. freshly ground black pepper
- 1/4 cup thinly sliced fresh basil leaves
- 1 Tbsp. minced garlic
- 1/2 cup vodka
- 2-16 oz. cans whole tomatoes, crushed with their juices
- 1 tsp. Emeril's Original Essence
- 1/2 cup heavy cream
- 1 lb. penne pasta
- 15 oz. ricotta cheese
- 1 cup grated Parmigiano-Reggiano
- 1 1/2 cups grated mozzarella cheese
- Crusty bread for serving

Instructions:

1. Preheat oven to 350F. In a large skillet heat 2 Tbsp. olive oil over high heat, add the sausages and cook until browned. Add the onions, 3/4 tsp salt and the black pepper. Saute until onions are transparent. Stir in the basil and garlic and cook for another 2 min. Add the vodka and tomatoes. Reduce heat to low and simmer for 40 min. Add the Essence and the cream, stir to mix, and simmer for 5 min. Remove from heat. Set aside.
2. Bring a large pot of water to boil with the remaining tsp. of salt. Add the pasta and boil until al dente according to manufacturer's instructions. Drain. Combine half of the ricotta, and half the Parmesan with the remaining 2 Tbsp. olive oil in a large mixing bowl. Add the pasta and toss to coat. Next, add the sausage mixture and the remaining ricotta and Parmesan, mix well.
3. Spray a 9x13" baking dish with cooking spray and add mixture. Top with mozzarella cheese. Bake for 45 min. until golden brown and heated through. Serve with crusty bread.
