Panora Times is a monthly publication of Big Green Umbrella Media Inc., an Iowa corporation. Contents 2023 Big Green Umbrella Media, Inc. All rights reserved. Nothing may be reprinted in whole or in part without permission of the publisher. Contact the publisher for permission to reprint articles or any other portions of the paper. A copy of this publication is mailed to all residential and business addresses in Panora, Linden, Yale, Jamaica and Bagley each month for free. Additional copies may be available upon request.

WELCOME TO PANORA TIMES!

The communities of the Panorama School District deserve their own great publication that they don't have to share with Guthrie Center or Bayard or Adair or Stuart or any other neighboring town. I am thankful for the opportunity to start bringing this one to you and the other residents of Panora, Linden, Yale, Jamaica and Bagley every month.

Times have changed in the publishing industry, and our communities certainly have, too. That's why we are introducing a new style of community publishing. Here's what you should know:

- Panora Times is a monthly lifestyle news magazine with its content focusing on local people, places and events of the communities we serve. You will find stories on families, businesses, schools, churches and more. Have a suggestion on something we should cover? Send it my way.
- We believe news and information should be provided for free, and that's why we are paying the cost to print and mail this publication to every residential and business address each month. Paid subscription newspapers were once effective advertising mediums. Now, with most reaching fewer than one in five households in any given community, that simply isn't true. Every household. Every month. You can count on that from the Panora Times.

- Paid subscription newspapers continue to serve a purpose, at least for the time being. As a result, we will continue publishing the Guthrie County Times Vedette simultaneously as we develop this free publication network.

- A number of shopper publications are distributed in the area, many from outside the county, but none make the commitment we do to local news. Our stories and photos drive readership, which, in turn, drive measurable advertising results.

Shane Goodman

- Life is in full color, and Panora Times is, too. Every page is printed in process color, providing a quality publication you will keep and refer back to often. You wouldn't buy a black and white TV or a smartphone with a grayscale screen, and you shouldn't be expected to read a publication that isn't investing in full color on every page either.

- If you own a business that needs to reach people in the local communities, then there is simply no better way to do it. Our award-winning designers can create advertising campaigns that will deliver your messages effectively. This publication, along with the Lake Panorama Times and the soon-to-be-launched Guthrie Center Times, will provide an unmatched network of readership and advertising results.

- I own the company, and I will continue to invest in Iowa communities. My wife and I also own a home in the county, and we are committed to making this an even better place to live, work and play. We have two decades of success in producing similar publications in central Iowa, and we are excited to bring Panora Times to each of you as well.

- We are proving that locally owned, independent publishing companies can thrive in this digital age. Having said that, we are also offering this publication and its archives online for free at www.panoratimes.com, and we will be promoting this publication through email and social media channels as well.

Panora Times is all about you, and I want it to be meaningful. As such, I would appreciate your feedback. Please reach out with any comments, and thank you for reading. ■

ARE YOU READY FOR PANORAMA DAYS?

Annual Panorama Days celebration set for Aug. 4-6.

BY SUSAN THOMPSON
For Panora Times

The three-day Panorama Days celebration that covers Panora and Lake Panorama begins Friday, Aug. 4 and runs through Sunday, Aug. 6. The theme for 2023 is "Sweet Home Panorama."

"Shane Goodman, owner of the Lake Panorama Times and Guthrie County Times Vedette, suggested the theme," says April Imming, Panora Chamber coordinator. "We asked the community to create logos to go with the theme, and we had some very creative ideas submitted. The Panorama Days planning committee chose Brittany Arganbright as the winner of the logo contest. She received $100 in Panora Chamber bucks. The logo Brittany submitted incorporated both the town of Panora and Lake Panorama, which we loved."

Dale Hochreiter, Panora Chamber president, says Panorama Days is a great time for the Panora and Lake Panorama communities to come together.

"There are a lot of events going on in town and at the lake," he says. "All the kids' events, the band on Friday night, the fireworks on Saturday night and many other things are free. This is only possible because of the many sponsors we have, both businesses and individuals. A special thank you to all our sponsors and participants for helping make the 2023 Panorama Days a success."

PANORAMA DAYS DATES BACK TO 1969

BY SUSAN THOMPSON

Lake Panorama Times

The first Lake Panorama Day was Aug. 2, 1969. It was originally scheduled to celebrate the completion of Lake Panorama's dam, but weather and other delays meant that didn't happen until nearly a year later in June 1970. The 1969 celebration took place anyway.

A full day of activities was planned. There was a pancake and sausage breakfast at 7 a.m. at the Panora Town Hall. A parade began at 10 a.m., there was a water fight between Panora and Guthrie Center fire departments at 1 p.m., and a free watermelon feed at 3 p.m. The Linden Lions had a dunking concession. The Panora Little League played Linden at 5 p.m., and activities closed with a teen dance at 8 p.m. in the new Panora fire hall.

Throughout that first Lake Panorama Day, there were bus tours of the nearly completed Lake Panorama. The American Land and Lake Company, based in Tennessee, had been hired by Mid-Iowa Lakes in October 1967 as the lake project developer. The company had an information booth in the Panora town square providing visitors with details on the 1,400-acre lake. There was a drawing for a boat and motor.

The second Lake Panorama Day was Saturday, Sept. 12, 1970. By then the dam gate had been closed and Lake Panorama was a reality. All the same activities from the first Lake Panorama Day were continued, but there was even more including a sky-diving exhibition, free boat rides on the lake, a greased-pig contest, pony rides, a National Guard helicopter on display and bingo.

Over the years, the annual celebration became Panorama Days and grew to three days of activities. Panorama Days was canceled in 2020 because of the COVID-19 pandemic, but it's believed the celebration has been held annually each year between 1969 and 2023, except for 2020. ■ the top three overall big fish. Bait will be supplied, but will be limited in quantity. Participants should bring their own fishing poles and tackle.

SHARE YOUR PHOTOS AND WIN PANORA CHAMBER BUCKS

Those who attend any portion of the Panorama Days celebration are invited to snap photos and participate in a contest by posting the photos on Facebook and Instagram using #panoramadays.

Multiple photos can be in one post. Security settings must be set to public so the Panorama Days planning committee can see them. Photos must be posted and tagged by 9 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 6. Each photo posted will give the photographer one entry into a drawing for $25 in Panora Chamber bucks. Three winners will be drawn. Photos entered will be used to help market future Panorama Days.

VOLUNTEERS AND DONATIONS ARE WELCOMED

Hochreiter says because Panorama Days is such a large event, the Panora Chamber and the planning committee welcome volunteers for any amount of time they can give throughout the weekend.

"Anyone interested in volunteering can email panorachamber@gmail.com for a list of activities where we need some help," Hochreiter says. "We also are continuing to accept monetary donation toward prizes given out during the weekend."

The theme for the 2023 Panorama Days is "Sweet Home Panorama." Shane Goodman, owner of the Lake Panorama Times, Panora Times and Guthrie County Times Vedette, suggested the theme.

The Panora Chamber relies on fundraising throughout the year as well as public donations to make Panorama Days possible.

Registration for the annual Panorama Days parade will start at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 5 at Panorama Elementary School, with the parade beginning at 10 a.m.

“Contributions from our local businesses make it possible to have all these great events,” Hochreiter says. “The annual golf tournament this past May was a great help to our fundraising, as we try to grow each year to bring new and interesting activities to the Panorama Days celebration.”

Hochreiter says donations always are welcome and can be sent by check to P.O. Box 73, Panorama, Iowa, 50216. Include “Panorama Days donation” in the memo, to make sure the money gets to the correct fund. Donations also can be made electronically using Venmo@panora-chamber.

Since Panorama Days is a chamber-managed event, Hochreiter says anyone interested is welcome to participate in the planning process as well as the three-day celebration. “Just like our other committees, you may sign up to volunteer at any of our Panorama Chamber meetings, which are open to the public the third Monday of each month,” he says.

Look for more information and updates on the 2023 Panorama Days activities on the Panorama Chamber website, plus the chamber’s Facebook page @panorachamber. ■

A LOOK AT SOME OF THE SUMMER'S BIGGEST HITS... AND A FEW UNEXPECTED GEMS

BY MICHAEL C. WOODY
For Panora Times

"SPIDER-MAN: ACROSS THE SPIDER-VERSE"

(in theaters)

In 2018 we were "Into the Spider-Verse," this year we are "Across the Spider-Verse" and in May of 2024 we will be "Beyond the Spider-Verse." So the 2023 chapter, "Across the Spider-Verse" is obviously the middle story in a trilogy. Knowing that makes it a lot easier to not completely understand everything that is going on in the film. This is Marvel Comics' multi-verse where different Spider-Men from a lot of universes collide in one. If you saw the first film, that makes sense. If you didn't, you need to catch up on these very well made films with well told stories. Grade: B+

"NO HARD FEELINGS"

(in theaters)

Sometimes it is great to go into a movie

"No Hard Feelings"

with no idea what the movie is about. I did it years ago with a little movie called "Ferris Bueller's Day Off," and that worked out well. I bring up that film because this movie is a raunchy version of those type of films. Jennifer Lawrence plays a down-on-her-luck Uber driver whose car is wrecked. She is offered a free used car if she will teach a wealthy couple's nerdy son about the ways of the world before he heads off to college. Did I mention that the son's father is played by Matthew Broderick (alias Ferris Bueller)? This is a laugh-out-loud R-rated comedy that had Sue and I giggling all the way home. Grade: A-

"TRANSFORMERS: RISE OF THE BEASTS"

(in theaters)

This is an entertaining and well-made movie that made almost no sense to me whatsoever. There was enough action and humor for two films, but maybe that's OK. My kids grew up with these Transformer things, so I'm not exactly the target audience, but I was mildly entertained. Grade: B-

"Elemental"

"ELEMENTAL"

(in theaters)

The Pixar people (and Disney) have given us some great animated family films over the years. Due to the Disney company's decision to be more inclusive in their films (as they have been with their theme parks, which turn 100 this year), there has been political backlash against some of their most recent films. Politics aside, this

"The Flash"

"Asteroid City"

"Indiana Jones and the Dial of Destiny"

"In the Company of Rose"

is an animated movie about a place where residents represent different elements of the earth such as water and fire. I found it to be an entertaining movie with a nice message. Grade: B

"THE FLASH"

(in theaters)

While I will admit to growing up a comic book fan, the DC Universe (Superman, Batman and the Flash) held little appeal to me. On the movie side, I have liked many of the DC-based movies but admittedly had little interest in "The Flash." I was wrong on this one. What I found was an entertaining and well-told story with an almost perfect mix of action and humor and an impressive nod to the DC Universe toward the end of the film. It was 30 minutes too long, but I'd still recommend it. Grade: B+

"ASTEROID CITY"

(in theaters)

This will probably be my last Wes Anderson film. While I'll admit to liking a few of this writer/director's early movies, his most recent ones seem to be weird just for the sake of being weird. He attracts a huge number of talented actors and actresses, but the stories have been so strange that he and I (OK, maybe just me) are going to have to agree to disagree on whether these are actually entertaining or not. Grade: D

"INDIANA JONES AND THE DIAL OF DESTINY"

(in theaters)

For a series that started so robustly more than 40 years ago, the sequels have been mostly underwhelming, at best. So, you naturally go into the final Indiana Jones movie with some trepidations. I'm happy to report that this is very much in the spirit of the original film. It is a rollicking good time from start to finish with Harrison Ford doing his best (at his age) and Phoebe Waller-Bridge more than picking up his slack. The plot is contrived as they search for the lance that killed Christ, but there is enough action and fun to distract most viewers. This is perhaps one of the best finishes to a major action series I can remember. The finale is not only excellent but unexpectedly touching. Grade: B+

(streaming on Prime Video)

I get random screening opportunities from film studios from time to time. Most I don't have time for, but I did have some spare time last weekend and started a film I knew nothing about. Rose Styron is a poet, activist and the wife of the late novelist Bill Styron ("Sophie's Choice"). This is an in-depth look at her, and their lives together, and I found it fascinating and well done. Grade: A-

August will bring us a mixed bag of new movies, but I see a few gems on the horizon. Until then, pass the popcorn. ■

'DICK' KOBERG
1941-2023

Richard "Dick" Lee Koberg, 82, son of Clarence and Luetta (Friederichs) Koberg, was born February 25, 1941, in Durant. He passed away Tuesday, June 27, 2023, at the Guthrie County Hospital, Guthrie Center.

Dick graduated from Durant High School in 1959 and attended the Iowa Teachers College for a year. He enlisted in the United States Army, serving from 1961 to 1964 as a Cryptologic Repairman. On Nov. 8, 1968, he married Carolyn Sundene in Durant. To this union, four children were born: Kris, Kevin, Kerry and Katie.

In 1968, Dick was employed by Northern Mutual Insurance Company. In 1969, Dick left Northwestern to pursue an opportunity with his Uncle Leo Levien at Levien Chevrolet in Fort Dodge. In the spring of 1977, with the encouragement of his uncle, Dick began looking for a dealership to purchase. Koberg Chevrolet was established in Carroll in the summer of that year. Dick later sold the dealership in 1984.

Later that year, Dick began working at Bowie Manufacturing, a company that manufactured fiberglass mobile truck-mounted veterinary units. Dick helped expand the business into the electric utility industry, and during that time, a utility fleet manager asked, "Can you build me a better outrigger pad?" Dick took up the challenge and created a hybrid fiberglass and wood outrigger pad that was stronger, longer lasting, and easier to handle than the common wood-only pads of the day.

In 1987, inspired by his lifelong love for equipment, Dick left Bowie and, with his wife, Carolyn, founded DICA (using the first two letters of their first names) in 1988 to see what he could do with this new outrigger pad. In 1989, DICA was registered as a corporation in the State of Iowa.

Dick worked tirelessly to establish and grow the identity of DICA, and through research and testing, he kept improving his outrigger pad until it became the product DICA is known for today. His No. 1 concern was always for the safety of the equipment being supported and for the people using the product.

Today, DICA is a worldwide leader in outrigger pads, crane pads, cribbing, ground protection and jack pad products. The business is headquartered in a 35,000-square-foot facility in Urbandale with additional manufacturing in Minnesota and Ohio, and has customers in more than 50 countries and on all seven continents. DICA remains a proud Koberg family-owned-and-operated business. The company has many valued employees whom Dick took a personal interest in and treated like family.

Dick enjoyed playing golf and card games, especially with his family. He also loved captaining boat rides at Lake Panorama, where he and Carolyn made their home in later life. He cherished his grandchildren and loved taking them on golf cart rides and sharing ice cream together. He was also well known to enjoy a Boulevard wheat beer and frequently raised his glass in a heartfelt salute to say, "Thank you to all of our wonderful customers."

Dick is survived by his wife, Carolyn Koberg of Panora; sons, Kris (Laura) Koberg of Cedar Rapids; Kevin (Joy) Koberg of College Grove, Tennessee; and Kerry (Kelly) Koberg of Earlham; and daughter, Katie Koberg of Dallas, Texas; grandchildren, Conner, Cade, Kelsey, Presley, Piper, Jackson, Ava and Andrew; siblings, Duane (Jan) Koberg of Sammamish, Washington; Chuck (Patty) Koberg of Folsom, California; and Marcia (David) Schuett of Durant. He was preceded in death by his parents and sister-in-law, Ruth Marie Holmquist.

Celebration of Life services were at 11 a.m., Thursday, July 13, 2023, at the Lutheran Church of Hope Chapel, West Des Moines.

The service was live-streamed (hopeonline.tv/specialevents). Burial of his remains will be at Maysville Cemetery at a later date in Maysville.

In lieu of flowers, memorials may be left to Tori's Angels, Guthrie County Hospital Foundation, or Hospice of the Midwest. ■

RECYCLING TO NOW INCLUDE NO. 5 PLASTIC

Carroll County Solid Waste Management Commission purchased and installed a baler and conveyor to remove No. 5 plastics from the waste stream.

BY RICH WICKS

For the Times Vedette

Guthrie County Solid Waste is a member of the West Central Iowa Solid Waste Management Association and is teamed with Carroll County Solid Waste, Crawford County Solid Waste and Shelby County Solid Waste to provide environmentally sound solid waste management in the West Central Iowa service area.

Recycling and waste materials from Guthrie County are temporarily stored at the Guthrie County Transfer Station. Materials are managed onsite until they are transported to Carroll County Solid Waste Management for final recycling management or waste landfilling. Recently, the Carroll County Solid Waste Management Commission (CCSW) received a grant from the Recycling Partnership and the Iowa Department of Natural Resources to purchase and install a baler and conveyor to remove No. 5 plastics from the waste stream.

"It's exciting to have the capability to include No. 5 plastics in our existing program of recycling No. 1 and No. 2 plastics," states Mary Wittry, director of Carroll County Solid Waste and West Central Iowa Solid Waste Management Association. "Many food containers are No. 5 plastic. The ability to recycle these materials reduces waste and protects our natural resources from over harvesting."

Once recyclable plastic from Guthrie

County arrives at the Recycling Center, it will be sorted into 1,200-pound bales. The bales will be sent to the recycle mill, where they will become battery cables and cases, brooms, brushes, bicycle racks and ice scrapers.

"We anticipate the addition of No. 5 plastics to our recycle program will be a big step toward increasing the life span of the landfill in Carroll. CCSW anticipates around 20 tons per year of these plastics...this weight amount is not a clear indicator of the space that will be saved. No. 5 plastics may weigh less than some plastics, but the shape and size takes up a larger volume of space in the landfill. We are very excited to have the capabilities to recycle and remove this plastic from the landfill," states Wittry.

Education Coordinator Karen Monical explains, "Residents can now recycle many plastic food containers such as yogurt, butter, ice cream, and sour cream containers with lids. This also includes fast food and convenience store drink cups, food trays and food storage containers with the No. 5 in the recycle symbol."

"Plastic containers look and feel very similar, but they are often made from different materials. With all plastic recycling, make it a habit to check the number in the recycle symbol for No. 1, No. 2 or No. 5 before dropping it in the recycle bin," advises Monical. "If plastic does not have a recycle symbol, or has the numbers 3, 4, 6 or 7, it belongs in the trash." ■

PANORA CAR WASH BUSINESS EXPANDS

Jon and Kim Peters have been in the car wash business since 1980.

BY SUSAN THOMPSON

For Panora Times

The U.S. car wash industry is growing, a trend that is expected to continue. In 2022, the market value of the industry was $30.85 billion. By 2030, that number is projected to be $38.61 billion.

Jon and Kim Peters have been in the car wash business since 1980 when they purchased an existing car wash in Perry. About 25 years ago, they purchased the car wash on the west side of Panora, which includes two self-serve bays, two automatic bays and two vacuums. They recently opened a new car wash with two automatic bays south of the Panora Casey's.

"We saw a need for an additional car wash in Panora, especially on the busy days at the west location," Jon Peters says. "That location doesn't have the best traffic flow, with customers sometimes lined up for the self-serve bays hindering access to the automatic bays. The new location relieves this congestion and makes it easier for customers to get in and out."

Jon grew up and attended school in Adel before earning a business degree at Iowa State University. Kim grew up south of Ames and attended Ballard Community School. Next for her was a nursing degree at Des Moines Area Community College. The couple has been married 42 years. They lived in Perry 38 years, bought a home at Lake Panorama in 2014, and moved here fulltime in 2018.

"We have two married daughters and five grandchildren," Peters says. "We are blessed they are close, and they like coming to the lake and enjoying what it has to offer."

The couple bought a second car wash in Perry, along with some storage units, in the late 1990s. At about the same time, Kim left nursing to join the business and has been involved ever since. The couple continues to operate two car washes in Perry.

The new car wash in Panora offers several advantages, both to the owners and their customers.

"The new construction let us build a building to accommodate today's equipment and not have to retrofit an old building," Peters says. "We were able to keep things like the electrical service and electronics in a 'dry room' that is separate from the water and pumps. Water leaks do happen."

For customers, there are more options.

From the basic wash and rinse, the customer can add products and services," Peters says. "For instance, the premium wash is the basic wash plus an underbody wash with wheel blasters and a dry. The ultimate wash includes the premium wash plus a 'triple foam' wax application."

The ultimate wash can be upgraded to include a salt shield soap product added to the underbody spray that Entrances to the two automatic bays are on the south side of the building. A stone exterior and windows in the west bay make the building more appealing.

Jon Peters and his wife, Kim, have been in the car wash business since 1980. They recently built a new building with two automatic bays in Panora. Jon Peters is shown in front of a control panel in an area tucked in between the two bays.

targets cleaning off salt and brine applied to roads in the winter.

"This option will be seasonal and will change to extra 'bug passes' during warmer months," Peters says. "There also is an upgrade to include a Carnauba wax, which is a ceramic-based wax designed for the finishes on today's vehicles. Finally, the all-inclusive package includes all of the options in one wash."

The technology incorporated into the new car wash makes it possible to offer a two-step presoak process.

This uses both high and low PH chemicals to address the different types of dirt on vehicles," Peters says. "For example, one works well for road film, while the other works well for bird droppings."

A water softener system and a reverse osmosis sys-

Two large water tanks are included in the utility room between the two bays. One holds water directly from the Panora water system. The other holds water that has been channeled through both water softener and reverse osmosis equipment to produce "spot free" tem combine to produce "spot free" water for the final rinse.

"Overhead dryers operate while the vehicle is still stationary after the wash, which eliminates the driver trying to time the exit through a stand-alone dryer and getting the full length of the dryer time," Peters says.

In the new automatics, the menu board that tells the customer to "drive forward, stop, back up and exit" is located overhead in the center of the bay.

"This makes it easier for customers to stay in the cen-

This car wash on the west side of Panora was purchased by Jon and Kim Peters 25 years ago. No changes are planned for this location. However, customer value cards offered at a discount can be purchased here for use at both locations.

ter of the bay and to see and follow instructions,” Peters says. “We also have a light on in the bays throughout the day to add light on cloudy, overcast days.”

The concrete bay floors, along with the approach and exits, are heated by a boiler and circulating antifreeze in the winter to eliminate ice buildup. Peters says “dark sky friendly” lighting was installed to minimize light reaching beyond the property. Stone was added to the exterior wall to make the building more appealing.

Peters says the car wash on the west side of Panora will remain unchanged. That is where a change machine is located, and where “Customer Value Wash” cards can be purchased, balances checked, and money added to existing cards.

“At the new location, cards cannot be purchased, but balances can be checked and cards recharged at the touch screens at the bay entrances,” Peters says. “Cards are offered at a discount. A $100 card can be purchased or recharged for $80, a $50 card for $40, and a $25 card for $20. The cards can be used at both locations.”

“We’ve been asked about monthly wash packages similar to what is available in the metro and suburbs,” Peters says. “As of now, we are not planning on that. The discounted wash cards we offer provide a number of washes without being restricted to a given number of days the washes have to be used.”

Both locations are open 24/7 unless the temperature drops into the single digits.

“Even though the washes are self-serve, we check them at least once daily, and sometimes more, depending on the weather and how busy the wash is, to make sure things are running the way they’re supposed to,” Peters says. “Also, the pits in the bays at both locations that collect mud from the washes are 5-feet deep and need cleaned out three to four times a year.”

Yet most times, Peters isn’t on-site when customers arrive.

“This isn’t the typical over-the-counter business transaction where we can thank them for using our wash,” he says. “But we certainly don’t take their business for granted and really appreciate our valued customers. This new wash took a while to get up and running, but we are happy with the way it turned out. And we are thankful for the patience the community has shown.” ■

WHAT'S IN YOUR GARAGE?

WENDL ENJOYS HIS 1983 SUZUKI — AND A CANNON?

More than 35 years of zipping around town on his classic motorcycle.

BY RICH WICKS

For Panora Times

We believe that there's a story in everyone's garage, and Paul Wendl proves it.

Any relationship that lasts more than 35 years indicates a strong bond. Paul Wendl of Panora has that with his 1983 Suzuki motorcycle, and he can frequently be seen zipping around town on it.

"I bought it from a young lady at the lake back in the mid 1980s, and I had previously had small mopeds," Wendl said.

He recalled that he paid $350 for the motorcycle, a 1983 Suzuki GN125. He mostly uses it for running errands, saying, "It's just something I ride to the grocery store, post office, something like that. It's just kind of fun to ride it around."

Over the years, Wendl has made a few modifications to his Suzuki.

"I upgraded it to electric start, electric turn signals, digital readout. New paint, new tires. It's just a cute little thing to buzz around on," he said. "I don't put a whole lot of miles on it. I maybe put a thousand miles a year on it and charge the battery up."

Wendl has had a few memorable moments with the Suzuki.

"I drove it out in the country one time, and I decided I'd better slow down because a turkey about took my hat off, and a deer about took my head off," he said. "So, I don't drive it at night, hardly any."

Wendl said he also worries that car drivers often don't see or hear motorcycles, and small road hazards can become big problems for motorcycles.

RICH WICKS | TIMES VEDETTE

Paul Wendl and his 1983 Suzuki.

As a result, he has no plans to take off on the open roads.

"I'm not much for gravel roads, and I guess Sturgis is out of the picture for me," he said.

While sharing these stories, Wendl pointed out another notable item on his lawn — a large cannon replica near his garage, pointing northward across Highway 44.

"Although it looks like it's an original cannon, it's just something I put together," he said. "The wheels came from southern Iowa, and the rest is just stuff I put together, and it makes it look like a cannon."

Does it fire?

"I've got a little black powder cannon, and I shoot that off once in a while," he said. "People think it's the big cannon, but it's not." ■

WATER BOTTLE-FILLING STATION INSTALLED AT HERITAGE PARK

BY RICH WICKS

A water bottle-filling station has been installed at Heritage Park, located on Highway 4 on the north edge of Panora. The small park also boasts a gazebo, benches and gardens. Funding for the water source was provided by Guthrie County Ten Squared Women and developed by the Panora Garden Club.

Heritage Park was created in 2000 for the Panora Garden Club, after permission was granted by Guthrie County Conservation. The Garden Club made use of donations, grants and fundraising events, along with many volunteers, to make the park a reality. Betty Donahey pointed out that Heritage Park is situated along the Racoon River Valley Trail (RRVT), which connects 14 communities along its 89-mile course from Waukee to Jefferson. Each of the 14 communities now has a public source for users to get fresh drinking water along the trail.

The RRVT follows a railroad right of way that was used for rail traffic for more than a century. The first section of the RRVT opened in 1989, and the RRVT now attracts more than 350,000 users annually. Plans are underway for a

WALK TO END ALZHEIMER'S IN PANORA SEPT. 16

In 2022, 95 participants on 15 teams raised more than $23,000.

BY SUSAN THOMPSON

For Panora Times

For the third year in a row, Panora will host an Alzheimer's Association Walk to End Alzheimer's. These fundraising events are held annually in more than 600 communities nationwide, and constitute the world's largest fundraiser for Alzheimer's care, support and research.

The walk in Panora is Saturday, Sept. 16, and is titled the Raccoon River Valley Walk. There are 19 walks scheduled in Iowa this fall, with the Panora walk being the smallest town to host one. Others are in cities such as Ames, Cedar Rapids, Council Bluffs, Des Moines, Fort Dodge, Iowa City, Mason City, Ottumwa, Sioux City, Dubuque and more.

Alzheimer's kills more than breast cancer and prostate cancer combined. One in three seniors dies with Alzheimer's or another dementia. More than six million Americans are living with the disease. In 2023, Alzheimer's and other dementias will cost the United States $345 billion, a number that is projected to rise to more than $1 trillion in 2050.

The Raccoon River Valley Walk begins at the Michael Mills Memorial Park at Southeast Fifth Street in Panora. Registration starts at 8 a.m. with a special ceremony at 9 a.m. The opening ceremony will immediately be followed by the two-mile walk that involves walking on a portion of the Raccoon River Valley Trail.

Edwards Jones is a national presenting sponsor of the Walk to End Alzheimer's. Dave Grove, an Edward Jones financial advisor based in Panora, and Melissa Loest, an Edward Jones financial advisor in Guthrie Center, are instrumental in organizing this local walk.

"We have asked several individuals from the surrounding communities such as Perry, Adel, Jefferson and Stuart to join our committee, and rally support and get businesses and individuals to participate," Grove says. "Creating some community-based teams to 'battle' to raise the most funds should make for some fun competition, and hopefully help raise awareness and participation.

In 2022, 95 participants on 15 teams raised more than $23,000.

"We have yet to crack 100 walkers and would like to change that this year," Grove says.

Grove is the captain for Team Panora and invites those looking for a team to join him for the 2023 walk. Those interested in supporting this cause, by walking, donating or volunteering, can contact him at djgrove@yahoo.com.

In addition to Edward Jones, the Lakeside Village in Panora is a key supporter.

"Lakeside Village and Joel Hester from Karl's Chevrolet hosted a car show in June that raised $1,500 for the walk, and they had a great turnout for their first year," Grove says.

Grove says Mel Borgeson, manager of the New Homestead in Guthrie Center, has volunteered countless hours to prepare and organize the event. Other committee members are Mary Jane Carothers, Bob Grove, Andrew Brommer and Sarah Wurr.

Several local businesses, including Hometown Foods and Local Liquor, have agreed to help with a "round-up" campaign to raise funds. This will give customers the chance to contribute to the Raccoon River Valley Alzheimer's Walk by increasing what they pay at the counter by a few cents or dollars, with the extra money donated to the walk.

walk, all participants are encouraged to raise funds that allow the Alzheimer's Association to provide 24/7 care and support and advance research toward methods of prevention, treatment and, ultimately, a cure. The Alzheimer's Association is a nonprofit 501(c)3 organization. All donations are tax-deductible as allowed by law.

Every registered participant who achieves the fundraising minimum of $100 receives an official Walk to End Alzheimer's T-shirt.

BRING BRUNCH FAVORITES TO THE TABLE

BY JOLENE GOODMAN

For Panora Times

(Family Features) Few things go together like the weekend and brunch. Whether that means gathering with family, friends or a combination of both, it's the perfect time to slow down and bring your loved ones together for a lighthearted meal.

Catering to a variety of different palates requires a diverse menu of dishes ranging from fresh fruit and baked goods to proteins and more. A key ingredient to bring any spread together: Envy apples, which are a natural cross between Braeburn and Royal Gala apples.

With their beautifully balanced sweetness, uplifting fresh aroma, delightfully satisfying crunch and bright red skin that sometimes features a golden blush, they can be served fresh or paired with other brunch favorites in shareable dishes like the Brunch Board with a Twist. Plus, their naturally white flesh doesn't brown as quickly as other apples, making them easy to savor while enjoying time with loved ones. ■

BARRACUDA SWIMMERS ARE CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS

Special to Panora Times

The Guthrie County Barracudas Swim Team finished as regular season conference champions with a 9-0 record and won the Conference Swim Meet on July 8.

The team consists of 92 swimmers from all around Guthrie County ages 5 to 18. Coach Dana Stein has been with this team for more than a decade, and he stated that all these swimmers work together toward the same goal.

"Many of these older swimmers have been with this team since they were 5 and 6 years old, and even though they have busy lives, they have found the time to be a part of this family," he said. "This is a family, and everyone is important."

Stein said they had swimmers who were "a little banged up," but the team brought them in and helped them stay in shape for other sports.

SPECIAL TO PANORA TIMES

The Barracudas Swim Team has not lost a regular season dual meet in more than five years.

"There are individuals that may have more success than others, but it takes the whole team to have this success, which says much from the tradition Guthrie County has, and many of the swimmers on this team have parents, grandparents, etc. that have swum for this team," said Stein. "I am so proud of this team and family."
