Tomatoes are divided into two different but important groups:

Determinate – Sometimes called bush tomatoes; these tomatoes have a relatively concentrated fruit set, meaning you harvest tomatoes only for 2 – 3 weeks. This is great for canning when you need a large crop in a short period. They can be planted closer together and usually do not need support.

Indeterminate – These tomatoes set fruit all season long so you have an extended harvest. They are very tall growing and require support.
