to the 2025 Grimes Chamber & Economic Development Business Directory

Grimes Chamber & Economic Development is proud to once again partner with our friends at Grimes Living magazine to present this year's edition of our Official Membership Directory. With the vibrant image of a local festival set against the backdrop of a stunning Iowa sunset featured on our cover, we're reminded of the unique spirit and beauty that make Grimes such a special place.

Whether you're new to Grimes, just visiting, or have lived here your entire life, we hope this directory becomes a useful tool to help you connect with the businesses and organizations that help shape our community. Inside, you'll find contact information, community insight, and a glimpse into the companies that have made a commitment to being a part of something bigger than themselves.

Membership in Grimes Chamber & Economic Development is more than just a listing — it's a sign of active engagement. Our members believe in investing in the community's future, and that belief is reflected not only in the pages of this directory but also in the countless ways they show up across Grimes. From sponsoring festivals and school events, to supporting youth athletics, to employing your friends, neighbors and family members — these businesses are the lifeblood of Grimes.

Today, GCED represents a growing and diverse membership of more than 320 businesses and organizations. Your local Chamber of Commerce

Grimes Chamber & Economic Development (GCED) serves as a dynamic connector — a hub where local businesses, nonprofits and community leaders come together to build a stronger, more vibrant Grimes. While our foundation is rooted in the traditional role of a Chamber of Commerce, GCED goes beyond the basics.

We are actively engaged in economic development, tourism promotion, and member services, with one clear mission: to support our members while working to improve the quality of life in Grimes. Our efforts help make this community not only a great place to live, but a thriving place to do business.

We collaborate with city, state, and federal partners to ensure that the voice of the business community is heard when decisions are being made. Whether advocating for policy, welcoming new businesses, or helping our members navigate challenges and opportunities, GCED is committed to progress through partnership.

In everything we do, we aim to deliver tangible value — from promoting local businesses and hosting networking events, to supporting our schools, service organizations, and civic institutions. GCED evolves alongside our community, embracing new ideas and addressing emerging needs while staying rooted in our mission to serve.

EXPANDING YOUR REACH THROUGH REGIONAL CONNECTIONS

When you become a member of Grimes Chamber & Economic Development, you're not just joining a local organization — you're also gaining access to one of the most powerful business networks in Iowa.

GCED members automatically receive dual membership in the Greater Des Moines Partnership (GDMP) at no additional cost. This regional affiliation opens doors to a network of more than 6,700 businesses across Central Iowa.

Through this partnership, members benefit from:

- Regional exposure via listings on www.dsmpartnership.com
- Timely updates on regional business news, events, and resources
- Opportunities to engage in regional initiatives and advocacy efforts

This dual membership amplifies your voice, increases your visibility, and strengthens your ability to make meaningful connections beyond Grimes — all while remaining rooted in the community you call home.

A COMMUNITY ON THE

Rise

Grimes is thriving and growing.

Grimes Chamber and Economic Development welcomed Wandering Raccoon Books to the community with a ribbon cutting.

By Lindsey Giardino

“Grimes is growing. There’s no doubt about it. But all that growth is in addition to an already thriving business community,” Brian Buethe, president and CEO of Grimes Chamber and Economic Development, said.

Buethe knows firsthand just how quickly the city is transforming. As the chamber’s leader, he sees the growth every day — in new developments, expanded businesses and packed event calendars. But what stands out most isn’t just the pace of change, but the foundation it’s being built on.

“Grimes is home to so many outstanding businesses whose success is paramount to the town’s prosperity and health,” Buethe said.

While the spotlight often shines on the new, he’s quick to recognize the legacy and resilience of longtime establishments.

“We are so proud to be associated with so many businesses that have been here for a long time,” he said.

Caribou Coffee
was welcomed to Grimes.

Still, it's impossible to ignore the wave of investment and innovation flowing into the community. At the forefront of that surge is the Hy-Vee Multiplex Powered by the City of Grimes, formerly known as the GrimesPlex. This premier facility is now one year in and already proving to be a gamechanger. This year, the venue plans to add shade structures, which Buethe believes will be well received by visitors.

With 12 soccer fields, 18 baseball and softball fields, 36 batting cages and 36 bullpens, the facility has become a regional magnet for athletes and families.

And those visitors are coming in droves: nearly 480,000 last year, with 133,600 of them being unique. Impressively, 37% traveled from outside central Iowa.

“We are so proud to be associated with so many businesses that have been here for a long time.”

GRIMES CHAMBER AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Ground has been broken
on a new public safety center.

“That becomes a real tourism benefit,” Buethe noted, mentioning the ripple effect on local businesses like restaurants and gas stations.

That tourism is set to increase even more. Grimes will host the Senior Softball World Series this summer, welcoming more than 110 teams.

And speaking of hospitality, a new Tru by Hilton hotel is under construction, marking the first hotel development in more than two decades. The four-story, 116-room property is slated to open in September along Highway 141.

Medical services are also expanding with the arrival of Iowa Ortho, which opened a 58,500-square-foot facility in late 2024.

The city is actively targeting more medical development as part of its strategy.

Other businesses finding a home in Grimes include a distribution center for Covetrus (a global animal-health technology and services company), Donovan Marine and local gems like Wandering Raccoon Books and Sips on Main.

With Chipotle recently opened, the Hope District (right by the Hy-Vee Multiplex Powered by the City of Grimes) continues to take shape. Its third commercial building, Hope Plaza 3, is now up, and the nearby residential component is under construction (320 apartments and 80 townhomes). This area is poised to be a hub of energy and commerce, and the addition of Caribou Coffee in Plaza 2 is just one early sign of the activity to come.

On the conservation side, Polk County is working to acquire more than 1,100 acres of wetland and woodland at Brenton Slough, with plans for trails, birdwatching spots and educational programming.

Grimes is also focused on modernizing and maintaining its infrastructure. By joining Central Iowa Water Works and connecting to Des Moines Metropolitan Wastewater Reclamation Authority (WRA) for wastewater treatment, the city has increased its capacity and eliminated a common area of concern.

“We don’t have any odor issues anymore,” Buethe said.

Big projects are underway south of James Street, including new road connections and the eventual widening of S.E. 37th Street. A new Public Safety Center will house both fire and rescue as well as the Polk County Sheriff’s office. And the new Grimes Public Library has been a hit, boasting a 99% increase in visitors year-over-year with 146,000 guests in 2024 alone.

Downtown is also getting attention. There’s been a proposed two-story mixed-use building with retail below and residential above, helping revitalize the area. A downtown assessment study and comprehensive plan update are in progress to help guide future land use and design as well.

“All of this is being driven by the growth we’ve seen,” Buethe said. “We’re about 18,000 people now and expect to be 27,000 by 2030.”

Last year alone, Grimes annexed nearly 500 acres and reported more than $885 million in building permit activity since 2018 — $360 million of which is from commercial growth alone.

While single-family permits slowed last year due to a lot shortage, that trend is shifting in 2025 with new developments like Hope Horizon, Hope Meadows, Hope Timber, Founders Glen, Harvest Pointe and Willow Hills. Many of these projects include parks and trail connections, especially near the high school.

When Grimes was smaller, Buethe noted, developments would be built on just a few acres of land.

“Now we have developers who are taking down hundreds of acres at a time,” he said. “This certainly makes our growth roll, but you get a lot better development when you can plan out an area and know exactly where all the roads and parks are going to be.”

The result? Well-thought-out neighborhoods and meaningful community design.

Looking ahead, Grimes is actively recruiting for entertainment venues, locally owned restaurants, medical offices, hospitality projects and retail, especially around the junction of Highway 141 and 44.

Ultimately, with everything that’s going on, Grimes is proving that, with intentional growth, comes lasting community impact. ■

From the City of Grimes

On behalf of the City of Grimes, we extend a warm welcome to you. Working in collaboration with the staff of Grimes Living magazine and Grimes Chamber & Economic Development, we have created an official business directory for the community that also serves as a centralized hub for information on city services, organizations and boards.

At City Hall, we receive numerous inquiries each day, and this guide addresses the most commonly asked questions. Whether you have been a long-time resident, just moved to the community, or simply want to learn more about our city, we hope you will find this guide informative and useful.

We urge each of you to play an active role in shaping Grimes by getting involved in city government or any of the many civic organizations that contribute to the vitality of our community. It is an honor to call Grimes our hometown, and we are proud of the strong family orientation, affordable residential living, and wholesome setting that make Grimes a unique place to live. Many people are choosing to leave the fast pace of Des Moines and call Grimes their home, and we believe it's easy to see why.

In Grimes, we place great importance on education, and our commitment to providing the finest facilities, teachers and educational opportunities is reflected in the Dallas Center-Grimes School District. Whether your children attend the elementary schools, the new middle school or the high school, they will benefit from an exceptional education.

Grimes, Iowa, is a community that offers a diverse range of housing options to fit any budget. With a variety of new and existing homes to choose from, alongside apartments, senior living options (including independent, assisted, short-term rehab and long-term care), and mobile home parks, there is something for everyone. Whether you're looking for a place to call your own or a community to retire in, Grimes has you covered.

In addition to its diverse housing options, Grimes is also a community that is experiencing continued growth. With a population of 15,392 (according to the 2020 census) and more than 500 businesses, Grimes has seen significant change since its founding in 1881. Despite its growth, however, the community still maintains its friendly Midwestern atmosphere and sense of community that brings people closer together. Located just to the northwest of the Des Moines metropolitan area, Grimes offers the best of both worlds: easy access to the advantages of city life, coupled with the security and peace of mind of a small town.

If you're interested in learning more about Grimes or have any questions, you can contact City Hall at 515-986-3036. The city officials will be happy to assist you.
