WELCOME

A COMMERCE-creating machine

Residents' Choice. Those two simple words have a lot of meaning to those who are recognized and those who seek out the people, businesses, places and events that are honored.

Yes, we have once again compiled the results of our local Residents' Choice poll, the only one of its kind. It is truly unique in two significant ways.

First, our poll is mailed to every residential household in the pages of this magazine with a link to an open website. That makes the poll available to every single resident. No exclusions.

Second, our poll has open-ended questions, which means we don't load the ballots with pre-determined answers to try to sway it in a certain way. The results are what they are. You will likely agree with some of them, and you will disagree with others — kind of like political elections. But, in this poll, all who are recognized are winners, and the end result is a great positive for all involved.

Readers of this publication have proven to seek out the winners and spend their time, energy and money with them. The poll results have become a customized search engine of sorts, providing valuable information on the choices of local residents in a variety of categories that are important to them.

Those who have been chosen tell me how much of an impact this directly has on them, their businesses and their organizations. Being recognized for positive contributions is seemingly always great, but when it helps create commerce, it is even better — and this Residents' Choice poll is a commerce-creating machine.

I explain this next point each year, but it is worth noting again. Those recognized in this poll are the choices of our readers — local residents. Although we agree with many of you on your choices, we do not pick them, and we have no impact on the results. I wouldn't have it any other way.

Other organizations are continuing to try to implement polls like ours, but none have the reach and credibility that ours has. You can't blame others for trying to imitate what we do, but you can question how they implement their polls and how many people actually vote in them.

Meanwhile, I thank all of you who took the time to vote in this year's Residents' Choice poll. Your votes do make an incredible difference. And, if you didn't vote, well, there is always next year.

Thanks for reading. ■

RESIDENTS' CHOICE AWARDS

Eastern Polk County residents share their favorites

Each year, through our Residents' Choice poll, we ask those living in eastern Polk County to share their views about the area's businesses, places, events and more. After all, they are the ones who know. The businesses with excellent services and products, the ones that go the extra step for customers, develop a loyal following of customers who vote them as their "favorites" in our poll.

The Residents' Choice Poll recognizes these "favorites," giving them a well-deserved pat on the back. And, for those wanting to make it onto next year's list of winners, they have a year to make their best impressions on their customers.

But, we don't stop with just the businesses in eastern Polk County. Residents have also recognized their favorite parks, events, schools, churches and more. When it comes to the amenities that add to the quality of life, eastern Polk County has much to appreciate and recognize.

With sometimes only a few votes making the difference between "favorite" and "runner up," we consider all to be "winners."

If you didn't vote this year, be sure to watch for the next poll to help recognize your favorites.

WHERE I find inspiration — and a new comfort-food favorite

Today's home cooks have no shortage of inspiration. With a quick search online, we can access thousands of recipes from trusted test kitchens, community-driven platforms and individual food bloggers. While I appreciate that convenience, I still find myself reaching for cookbooks, browsing new releases at the bookstore and checking out titles from the library — a perfect way to “test drive” a recipe before committing to it.

Another favorite source of inspiration is Family Features, a free recipe site filled with reliable dishes and beautiful photography that never fails to spark my creativity in the kitchen. This month's recipe, loaded Philly cheesesteak baked potatoes, brings together two of my favorite comfort foods: steak and potatoes — both of which also happen to be Shane's favorites. It takes the familiar flavors of a classic Philly cheesesteak sandwich and transforms them into a warm, satisfying baked potato meal. It's hearty, comforting and perfect to enjoy for dinner, with plenty left over for lunches throughout the week. ■

Loaded Philly cheesesteak baked potato

Recipe courtesy of Real California Milk

Prep time: 10 minutes

Cook time: 1 hour, 11 minutes

Servings: 4

Ingredients

- 4 large russet potatoes, washed
- 1 cup Real California sour cream
- 1-2 tablespoons Real California whole milk
- 1/4 cup Real California unsalted butter, divided
- 1 small green bell pepper, thinly sliced
- 1/2 small yellow onion, thinly sliced
- kosher salt, to taste
- freshly ground black pepper, to taste
- 1 pound fresh shaved sirloin steak
- 2 cups shredded Real California provolone cheese

Directions

- Preheat oven to 425 degrees F and line baking sheet with aluminum foil.
- Prick potatoes all over with fork. Bake until potatoes are tender and fork inserted easily comes out, 45 minutes to 1 hour. Split tops of potatoes open with knife and fluff potato flesh with fork. Set aside.
- In small bowl, combine sour cream and milk, adding more milk as needed, until sour cream is pourable. Set aside.
- In large skillet or on griddle over medium-high heat, heat 1 tablespoon butter. Add peppers and onions; cook until tender, 3-4 minutes. Season with salt and pepper, to taste. Transfer to plate and set aside.
- Clean skillet then melt remaining butter. Add steak and cook until fully cooked and lightly browned, 3-4 minutes. Season with salt and pepper, to taste. Return vegetables to skillet and toss to combine.
- Evenly top each potato with 1 tablespoon butter, steak mixture and cheese. Transfer to oven and bake until cheese is melted, 2-3 minutes. Drizzle with sour cream and serve.

REAL ESTATE By Austin Sullivan

WHY SERIOUS buyers and sellers start in January

For many people, real estate feels like a spring sport. Warmer weather, greener lawns and more listings seem to signal the right time to act. But, in reality, the most serious buyers and sellers often start much earlier. January is when smart, intentional moves begin.

The biggest advantage of starting in January is clarity. Buyers and sellers who engage early are not reacting to the market. They are planning. Buyers have time to understand their budget, lending options and true needs before competition ramps up. Sellers can evaluate their home, discuss pricing strategies and make improvements without the pressure of a looming list date. That preparation almost always leads to better outcomes.

Competition is another major factor. January typically brings fewer active buyers and fewer listings. For buyers, that can mean more negotiating power, less pressure and the ability to move thoughtfully instead of emotionally. For sellers, it often means your home stands out more clearly. Serious buyers who are active this time of year are motivated, qualified and decisive. Those are the buyers sellers want.

January is also when life decisions tend to bloom. New jobs begin. Families reassess space needs. Relocation plans move from idea to action. These transitions do not wait for spring, and neither should your planning. Starting early allows buyers and sellers to align timing with real life instead of the traditional calendar.

Financials also play a role in the January buying. Buyers and sellers could be receiving that year-end bonus or a sizable tax return that now has them thinking if they should make the move.

Another overlooked benefit is smoother transactions. When deals are set in motion early in the year, there is more flexibility with timelines, inspections and negotiations. Lenders, inspectors and service providers are often less overloaded than they will be later in the year. That breathing room reduces stress and helps everyone make better decisions.

Finally, starting in January creates confidence. Whether you plan to buy, sell or simply gather information, taking early steps replaces uncertainty with direction. Even if your move does not happen until later in the year, the groundwork you lay now puts you in control.

Serious buyers and sellers do not wait for the market to tell them when to act. They prepare, plan and move with intention. January is not the off season. It is the foundation for a successful year in real estate. ■

MEET Abby Armstrong

Educator finds her way back to her dream.

When Abby Armstrong was a child, and adults asked what she wanted to be when she grew up, her answer was always the same: a kindergarten teacher.

Today, she's living that exact dream at Morris Elementary.

Getting there, however, followed an unexpected path. In fact, this is Armstrong's first year as a full-time classroom teacher. She graduated in 2004 with a degree in elementary education from Morningside College in Sioux City, but life had other plans.

The same month she graduated college, Armstrong was diagnosed with cancer.

Needing a job as quickly as possible to secure health insurance, she accepted the first position she was offered — in the insurance industry. She remained with the company for many years, then later stepped away to raise her children, spending time as a stay-at-home mom off and on for several more years.

All of which makes her return to teaching especially meaningful.

In 2022, Armstrong decided it was time to pivot back to her roots. She dusted off her teaching license and began substitute teaching in the Bondurant-Farrar Community School District.

During that first year, Armstrong taught in every building and across all grade levels. Over the next two school years, she stepped into long-term substitute roles for teachers on maternity leave. Coincidentally, all four of those long-term positions were kindergarten classrooms at Morris Elementary.

"That was that," Armstrong says. "The kindergarten bug had gotten me again and pulled me back into teaching. When I learned that a kinder position was opening up for the 2025–26 school year, I knew it was a sign for me to shift gears and go for it."

It's hard for Armstrong to describe just how much Morris feels like home.

"While I was subbing and doing long-term assignments, Morris just became my favorite place to be," she says. "The kinder team specifically is so warm and helpful; I just felt like I belonged. And, of course, the children and their families in this building and community are wonderful. I wouldn't want to be anywhere else."

For Armstrong, some of the most rewarding moments come when she sees something click for her students: when a new concept finally makes sense or when a child steadily improves at a skill that once felt challenging.

"Little celebrations like that make all the hard work worth it," Armstrong says. "Not to mention that these little nuggets love coming to school; they come in each day and give the biggest hugs and brightest smiles. The relationships we build at school are so special to me." ■

After some long-term substitute teaching with the district, Abby Armstrong now has her own kindergarten class.

A CHALLENGE to be your best spiritual self

As we venture into 2026, how can I challenge you to be the best version of your spiritual self? If you're a goal setter like me, then you've probably already jotted down your resolutions. But how do you measure a good year from a bad year?

In the bible, God tells us the stories of the kings of Israel and Judah. In his evaluation of each king, the criteria for a good king was based on whether he followed God or didn't. Not how many castles he built or lands he conquered, not even how well he treated his subjects, but rather his ability to honor God through his worship and actions.

What would make this year good for you? Would it be financial or material? Some of my happiest memories came from times when our family struggled.

What if, in 2026, you committed to being a part of something bigger than yourself and found purpose and value in your life? A relationship with Christ can satisfy that longing. Connecting with other believers can help you further your goals for service and sacrifice.

No one wishes they had worked more when they are on their death bed but, rather, values the relationships they built in this life and the confidence of the life to come based on faith.

I want for this year to be a year of peace, where my joy and relationships expand and my influence can help others see the love Jesus has for them. "God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him" (John 3:17).

2026 won't be easy for everyone. Jesus said, "In the world you will have tribulation. But take heart; I have overcome the world" (John 16:33). Although we aren't promised easy, we are encouraged to show compassion and share experiences. "Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ" (Galatians 6:2).

So let's make 2026 the best year ever and take pride in the relationships we form — united and compassionate, attempting to help one another in peace with love. More importantly, work to develop a deeper relationship with God, who calls us to live peaceably with all. God loves you, and He wants to be close to you.

May the true living God bless you in 2026 as you work to grow spiritually and fulfill His will. ■

HEALTH

By Dr. Kari Swain and Dr. Elizabeth Ellrich

4 WAYS to prioritize your health

A new year provides the opportunity to shift your priorities. Making your health a top priority will bring both immediate and long-term benefits to your physical, mental and emotional well-being. Bridging the gap between wanting to live a healthy lifestyle and actually living the lifestyle can be done with commitment and preparation.

- 1. Have a plan. Planning helps create a clear idea, a visualization, of how to reach your goals. Don't be afraid to ask for help.
- 2. Become goal-oriented. Set goals, write them down and place them in a highly visible spot. Stay committed to your goals.
- 3. Take action. Repetition breeds habits, and habits turn into character traits. Our value systems are the foundations upon which we build our future. It is one thing to say you want to be healthy, but to be healthy, you must act. Start by choosing one healthy habit and being consistent and persistent with that habit before adding another one.
- 4. Tune up your engine. It is impossible to function at your highest level when you are not supporting your body.
  - Support your nervous system with regular chiropractic adjustments. A healthy nervous system is essential for optimal function and expression of health.
  - Aim for adequate hydration and optimal nutrition.
  - Consider a well-balanced, whole-foods-based purification/detoxification. This can help to eliminate toxins and improve immune and metabolic functions.
  - Plan for daily movement, including walking and stretching.
  - Prioritize sleep and manage stress levels. ■

DENTAL myths debunked

If your teeth don't hurt, they are healthy - Fiction.

Many dental problems, including cavities and gum disease, can develop without pain. Regular dental checkups help catch issues early — before they become painful or costly.

Brushing harder cleans better - Fiction.

Brushing too hard can actually damage tooth enamel and irritate gums. A soft-bristled toothbrush and gentle pressure are far more effective — and safer — for daily brushing.

Sugar is the only cause of cavities - Fiction. While sugar plays a role, cavities are caused by bacteria and acid that break down enamel. Starchy foods, frequent snacking and poor oral hygiene can also contribute.

Bleeding gums are normal - Fiction. Healthy gums shouldn't bleed. Bleeding can be an early sign of gum disease and should be checked by a dental professional as soon as possible.

Baby teeth don't matter because they fall out - Fiction. Baby teeth help with chewing, speech and guiding permanent teeth into place. Untreated problems in baby teeth can affect long-term oral health.

Whitening toothpaste can dramatically whiten teeth - Mostly Fiction. Whitening toothpaste can remove surface stains. Professional whitening treatments are more effective for noticeable results.

You only need to see the dentist when there's a problem - Fiction. Preventive visits every six months help keep your teeth and gums healthy and often prevent major dental issues before they start. ■

MICRONEEDLING: art and science of skin renewal

In today's beauty landscape, where results and refinement go hand in hand, microneedling has emerged as a sophisticated approach to skin rejuvenation. Celebrated for its ability to work with the skin's natural biology, this treatment offers a way to restore luminosity, texture and resilience.

Microneedling uses precision-controlled, ultra-fine needles to create microscopic channels in the skin. These controlled micro-injuries activate the body's innate healing response, signaling the production of collagen and elastin — two essential proteins responsible for skin's firmness, elasticity and youthful structure. As fresh collagen forms, the skin appears smoother, more even and visibly refreshed.

One of microneedling's most compelling benefits lies in its ability to address multiple concerns at once. Fine lines soften, acne scars appear refined, pores look less pronounced, and overall tone becomes more balanced. Over time, the skin develops a strengthened foundation, revealing a natural radiance that feels effortless rather than overcorrected.

As technology continues to advance, microneedling has evolved into a highly refined experience. Modern devices, including the latest SkinPen® technology, offer precise depth control and enhanced safety, allowing treatments to be tailored to individual skin needs while maintaining exceptional consistency and comfort. ■

PLAN AHEAD

By Scott Eriksen

PLAN ahead in 2026

Will 2026 be the year? It might be cleaning out the basement. Perhaps it is getting a will in place...or updated. Or maybe it is finally getting your funeral prearrangements addressed. We hear it all the time: "I am so glad to have this taken care of."

Planning your final arrangements begins with a simple conversation and can be a pleasant process. Planning ahead also allows you time to give thoughtful consideration to these important decisions. There are many options to think about when addressing your final arrangements, and there are even prepayment options available to those who wish to have their final financial obligations handled in advance.

An advanced planning consultant can walk you through these choices and options.

Start the year by crossing something off your "to-do" list. Reach out to your funeral home of choice and schedule a meeting to get your prearrangements in place.

You will be glad you did...and so will your family. ■

MORE than a gala: A night that supports Bondurant

On March 6, the Bondurant Chamber of Commerce will host its Annual Chamber Dinner, the Grand Masquerade Awards Gala — and you might be wondering why this event matters to more than just chamber members.

The answer is simple: Support. Recognition. Celebration. Education. Guidance.

Support: When you show up for chamber-member businesses, you're showing up for Bondurant. These businesses are the lifeblood of our community — fueling growth, creating opportunity and shaping the future of our city. We wouldn't be on the precipice of such exciting progress without the businesses that have invested here, and we won't continue to thrive without welcoming new ones who see just how special Bondurant truly is. By attending, you're directly supporting the chamber and the businesses it serves — sponsorships, awards and recognition all help reinvest energy and resources back into our local economy.

Recognition: This evening is about appreciation. Our businesses pour time, energy and heart into serving Bondurant, and the Grand Masquerade is our opportunity to let the community speak up and recognize the impact they've made. These awards represent gratitude, pride and shared success.

Celebration: Who doesn't love a great celebration? Expect a fun, elegant evening filled with games, music, incredible food and — most importantly — amazing people. It's a night designed to enjoy, connect and celebrate everything that makes our community strong.

Education: We guarantee you'll discover at least one business, service or opportunity you didn't know existed right here in Bondurant. Come learn who is part of the chamber, what they offer and how their products or services could benefit you or your business.

Guidance: This is your chance to help shape what's next. Our 2026 theme is "Igniting Opportunity," focused on Fueling Growth and Building Connections. When we come together — sharing ideas, networking and planning for the future — we move Bondurant forward. Your voice and presence matter.

Whether you're a longtime supporter, a new business owner or a community member who simply loves Bondurant, this evening offers something for everyone. It's an opportunity to connect beyond business cards or social media posts — to build real relationships, spark meaningful conversations and leave inspired by the people who are investing their time, talent and passion into our city's future.

We've accomplished so much — and there's so much more ahead. Together, as a community, we'll get there.

Tickets are available at BondurantChamber.com and Bondurant Chamber social media platforms. ■
