GOODWILL HOSTS CUSTOMER APPRECIATION EVENT

On Wednesday, May 24, Goodwill of Central Iowa hosted its first Community Appreciation Event at its Headquarters and Training Center in Johnston. More than 200 central Iowans attended the event for facility tours, local food trucks, games, prizes, thrifting and music from Star 102.5.

Event attendees were given a behind-the-scenes look at Goodwill where they were able to track the life cycle of a donation. From donation door, to sales floor, to outlet bin, and through the recycling and salvage processes, Goodwill of Central Iowa diverted more than 17 million pounds of household items and clothing from local landfills in 2022 alone. By offering the opportunity to extend product life cycles, Goodwill of Central Iowa is effectively maximizing the impact of each donation while decreasing the

'OH, YEAH!'

The two words in this headline conjure an image of a glass pitcher with a smiley face for generations of kids who grew mixing packets of powder, sugar and water together for a tasty drink to “wipe out thirst.” Some of you still have the containers you made this stuff in with the stains on the plastic to prove it.

Yes, I am referencing Kool-Aid and the ever-popular Kool-Aid Man. Kool-Aid still exists as a brand of flavored drink mix and is now owned by Kraft Heinz, but it certainly doesn't have the allure it had decades prior.

Edwin Perkins of Hastings, Nebraska, invented the powder form of Kool-Aid in 1927 when trying to improve on a liquid concentrate called Fruit Smack. Like most all great inventors, his experiments started in his mother's kitchen. Perkins was attempting to create a powder version of Fruit Smack that would be easier — and less expensive — to ship. Once he devised a solution, he moved production to Chicago. This success sparked the interest of large companies, and Kool-Aid was sold to General Foods.

If you have ever been to Hastings (about 100 miles west of Lincoln), you know how important Kool-Aid is to the community, as the residents have a festival called Kool-Aid Days on the second weekend in August. And, of course, Kool-Aid is Nebraska's official soft drink. Why not?

The original six flavors of Kool-Aid were cherry, grape, lemon-lime, orange, raspberry and strawberry. I preferred grape or strawberry, but they were all fantastic. Singles flavors were later introduced including black cherry, tropical punch, lemonade, pink lemonade, cherry, watermelon, orange and summer punch. Again, how could you go wrong?

General Foods introduced The Kool-Aid Man and the ingenious marketing shortly after acquiring the brand in the 1950s. You may remember the Kool-Aid Man crashing through walls and fences and then making a batch of Kool-Aid for kids while shouting, “Oh, yeah!” I had a ring-neck Kool-Aid T-shirt with this image and slogan on it as a kid. I wore it out.

Kool-Aid is now available in liquid drops, but it just isn't the same. There was something about being a kid and standing on a chair at the kitchen counter, measuring the Kool-Aid powder and mixing it up with a wooden spoon that just can't be replicated with any type of drops. Yes, this is a job for Kool-Aid. “Hey, Kool-Aid!”

What are your Kool-Aid memories? Send me a note and let me know.

Have a terrific Tuesday, and thanks for reading. ■

JOHNSTON LIONS CLUB TENT OFFERS SERVICES

There is something new for Green Days at the Johnston Lions Club tent on Thursday, June 15, 5-8 p.m., and Saturday, June 17, 1-4 p.m.

When you come to celebrate Green Days, bring your old eyeglasses and hearing aids to the Johnston Lions Club tent. They will recycle them.

They will also have the makings for kindness kits. The CDC has declared that loneliness is at an epidemic level. Do you know someone who could be lonely, sad or not feeling well? Come to the Johnston Lions Club tent and create a kindness kit. Bring the kids and select items to put into an eyeglass case that will encourage interaction and a feeling of connectivity. Teach kindness and empathy.

Diabetes testing will be offered during the Saturday hours. One of the missions of the Johnston Lions Club is blindness prevention. Diabetes can lead to diabetic retinopathy, which is one of the leading causes of blindness. For this reason, the Johnston Lions Club invited Iowa Diabetes to come to Johnston Green Days to offer diabetes testing. A single drop of blood is used, and, within a few minutes, a person can know whether they have diabetes or not. The A1c test shows the average of blood sugar in your body for over a period of the past three months. A result of less than 5.7 is normal. Greater than 6.5 would be a sign to get checked by your doctor. An early diagnosis could save your eyes from further damage. ■

GREEN DAYS QUILT AUCTION

The Crown Point Senior Center "Sewcial" group will be raffling off a handmade quilt (84 inches by 76 inches) to benefit the Johnston Partnership food pantry. Help the group raise funds to fight hunger by purchasing tickets for this one-of-a-kind piece. ■

ALUMNI NIGHT AT JOHNSTON GREEN DAYS

Johnston Green Days, the annual community celebration held each June, will be hosting an All-Alumni Reunion on Saturday, June 17, and all Johnston High School alumni and families are welcome. Organizers will have a table from 5-9 p.m. inside the beer garden for alumni to check-in and grab a name tag before mingling with fellow alums. The party continues until midnight at Terra Park with live music, cold drinks and fireworks. Organizers will also have old JHS yearbooks, a selfie station, and Alumni apparel available for purchase. ■
