Please be mindful of the time when putting garbage and recycling out by the curb. With different drivers and the upcoming change in weather, the route the garbage truck takes is subject to change. Your garbage toter should be out by 6:30am on your garbage day so the DPW can pick it up promptly.

Christmas Tree Recycling

The DPW will pick up Christmas trees through the end of January.

Summer Projects

Long overdue improvements were made to the drainage gutters on Heather Lane, as well as sidewalks. Last step for this project is sealing the road in the Spring. Part of this project was funded by Monroe County Community Development Block Grant. Phase II of this project will happen next summer on Briarwood Lane. And Phase III on Diana Dr. commencing in Summer 2026.

Rebuilding catch basins is an ongoing project throughout the Village.

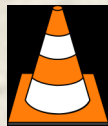

The Canawaugus Park parking lot will be closed Friday, Sept. 27 at 6 am until Monday for repairs.

Regular Reminders

Get your garbage and recycling totes out to the road by 6:30 am on pick up day. The route is not always the same, so they may surprise you with an early pick up.

The leaves have started to fall, they should be raked to the road in long piles. Pick up will continue until the first snowfall. Please do not put them in the road, it causes a safety concern. Other debris should not be mixed in.

Brush pick up ends October 1. Landscaping bags get picked up year-round.

On September 14th, Canawaugus Park was the start of the 1st Annual Greenway Cycle Challenge presented by CooperVision USA. A huge thank you to all the amazing participants, dedicated volunteers and generous sponsors who made this event a success. It was a perfect day for our community to come together and support a fantastic cause — the Genesee Valley Greenway State Park! 163 riders, aged from 4 to 87, rode the 10 miles to the finish in Avon Driving Park.

And, all but a few folks came from outside of our immediate area.

The event highlighted work by the Genesee Valley Trail Towns and Friends of the Genesee Valley Greenway.

Even in the winter!

Winter Reminders

The Village DPW prides themselves on keeping our streets and sidewalks safe and useable in the winter season. You can help by remembering the following:

- ◆ Overnight parking is prohibited on village streets from 3:00am – 6:00am from November 1 through April 1 for snow plowing purposes. Tickets will be issued to vehicles parked during these hours. The fine is $50.
- ◆ New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law states that it is illegal to shovel or plow snow into the roadway. If you use a snow blower, point the blower away from the street. If you hire a contractor to plow your driveway, you should make certain that they do not plow snow into the street.
- ◆ Please do not place refuse or recycle bins in the street or on the sidewalk.
- ◆ Please keep bushes and trees trimmed so the sidewalk plow can keep the sidewalks clear.
- ◆ Do not leave parked vehicles across the sidewalk to block the plow.
- ◆ The DPW does not salt the sidewalk, use caution.

Mailbox Replacement Procedure

It is the DPW's practice to replace mailboxes that are damaged by the village during snow removal operations. Replacement of your mailbox is done as a courtesy; the village is not legally liable for damage to mailboxes.

Special Mailboxes:

The department does not repair special mailboxes. Any and all damaged mailboxes will be replaced with a standard 4' by 4' post and mailbox. If you have a special mailbox, you may consider replacing it for the winter snow season with a standard mailbox.

For More Information:

For more information about mailbox replacement, please contact the Highway Department at (585) 889-1584.

Newsletter

To save on printing and mailing costs, the newsletter is emailed, can be found on the website and posted on Facebook.

We do send a hard copy to a few residents who have requested. If you or someone you know does not have access to an electronic copy, please call or email the Office to get on that list.

From the EPA-

EPA scientists are partnering with organizations in the greater-Chicago metropolitan area to assess the use of vegetative barriers in mitigating the effects of nearby roadway air pollution and improving air quality near schools. Vegetative barriers, such as roadside trees and foliage, can clean air by trapping pollutants on leaves and branches or forcing air up and away from people.

EPA's Richard Baldauf and the EPA Chicago Vegetative Barrier Project team—Jennifer Tyler, Sheila Batka, Kathy Kowal, Yulissa Aguilar, and Megan Gavin— work with three Chicago-area schools located near major roadways in a study using trees and other vegetative barriers to protect schools from roadway air pollution.

During the study, researchers use air sensors to measure pollutants commonly released in motor vehicle exhaust, including particulate matter, nitrogen dioxide and black carbon, which is a form of particulate matter. The researchers also collect meteorological data, including wind speed and direction, temperature, humidity, and precipitation measurements.

"Appropriately selected and maintained bushes and trees along roads have been shown to reduce air pollution exposures," Baldauf said. "Plants used as vegetative barriers need to be suitable for all local weather situations and keep their foliage year-round so there are no gaps or large spaces."

Tree and vegetation buffers are a fairly new design technology in American cities but could be a critical asset in the future as researchers expand their understanding of how to effectively integrate them into green infrastructures. EPA's collaboration with local and university partners to pull in a breadth of knowledge and input is essential to identifying best practices for later vegetative barrier design and implementation. Baldauf and his collaborators plan to continue conducting measurements after the vegetative barriers grow so the team can assess their impact on air and noise quality. Study results are expected to be available one year after completion of the vegetation sampling and will be shared with the participating schools.

By collecting air quality samples using air sensors and meteorological equipment, EPA scientists and their project partners aim to expand understanding of the ways that vegetative barriers can impact air quality and noise pollution near schools and other buildings, promote learning and community engagement about air quality and trees, and create cleaner air for school communities.

How to Protect Water Quality for the Genesee Valley Basin (our watershed)

Stormwater and Pollution

Stormwater is water from rain or melting snow that does not soak into the ground. It flows from rooftops, over paved areas, bare soil, and sloped lawns washing pollutants from streets, construction sites, and land into storm sewers and ditches. Eventually, the storm sewers and ditches empty the polluted stormwater directly into streams and rivers with no treatment. This is known as stormwater pollution.

You Can Identify a Storm Sewer

The grated drains found along roadways and within some low-lying and seasonally wet (swale) areas. They collect excess stormwater from rain and snowmelt that does not soak into the ground, and convey it to streams, rivers, and other local waterbodies.

We See It During Every Storm

Automotive fluids creating a colored sheen mixed with rain or snowmelt on parking lots, trash, cigarette butts, animal waste, and misapplied lawn treatments washed into storm drains.
