SE Asian Farmers Visit Houston Farm

By WANDA HANSON
wanda@fillmorejournal.com

Glen Groth hosted some special visitors at his Houston area farm recently. Guests from Indonesia, Vietnam and Thailand visited Groth's farm as they took part in the NSM (Northern Soy Marketing) Crop Tour on September 29 through October 5. NSM is a collaboration of Minnesota and South Dakota soybean checkoff organizations. Minnesota and South Dakota produce 16% of the soybeans grown in the U.S. NSM's goal is to promote the nutritional value of northern soybeans.

The tour began with a visit to the University of Minnesota's soybean research plots where soybean agronomist Dr. Navee spoke with the group. They then headed south to the Groth Family Farms owned by Chair of NSM Glen Groth and his wife Melinda.

CHUCK'S FEED & GRAIN - SAME NAME; NEW OWNERS

The history of Chuck's Feed & Grain will be honored; the name will remain as will newspaper clippings displayed at the feed store. Photo by Wanda Hanson

BY WANDA HANSON
wanda@fillmorecountyjournal.com

Chuck's Feed & Grain has new owners — Terry Barth and Eric Nierstheimer. The duo have been doing extensive work at the former mill located at 427 Mill Street in Peterson since purchasing the business from Mike Eidenschink in March 2023. The milling equipment has been removed, the back of the building has been cleared out and is ready to be remodeled this spring and summer for its future use.

Barth and Nierstheimer have chosen to keep the name Chuck's Feed & Grain to honor the history of the business. Sam Benson originally ran the mill for 20 years; in 1964, Chuck Eidenschink purchased Benson's Mill and renamed it Chuck's Feed & Grain. He and Mike Eidenschink celebrated running the mill for 30 years in 2014.

Both Chuck and Mike were happy that the business would retain the Chuck's Feed & Grain name. Barth noted that Mike was instrumental in helping them as they took over the feed store business.

Chuck's Feed & Grain is now open as a full service feed store, selling a plethora of feed and supplies for all species — farm animals, pets and exotics. Recently, they served a customer in search of carmel yeast. Another new product available from Chuck's are castration bands for calves and lambs that deliver lidocaine as a local anesthetic.

The business will now have a lot more products with lots of equine products. According to Barth, their products will be unique, different and priced right.

How do they have access to such a variety of goods? Terry Barth happens to own American Sales, a company he created in 2001 to serve as a rep agency for companies across the United States. Originally, in search of a large warehouse for products, Terry found exactly what he needed in the Chuck's Feed & Grain building; Terry had known former owner Chuck Eidenschink for years.

After purchasing the building, Barth knew he needed someone who could run the business and who he could trust.

INVEST IN THEIR FUTURE. BUILD FOR OUR COMMUNITY.

Say YES to Arts, Athletics, and Opportunity for Every Windom Student

A FUTURE WITH PRIDE. A PLACE TO CALL HOME.

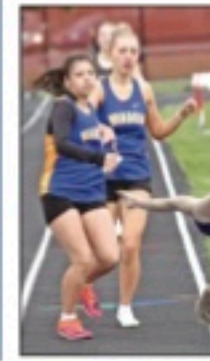

Windom students show up with heart. On the field, mat or apparatus, on the stage or in the classroom—they give it their all. Now it's our turn to support them with facilities that match their passion.

WHERE ARTS TAKE CENTER STAGE

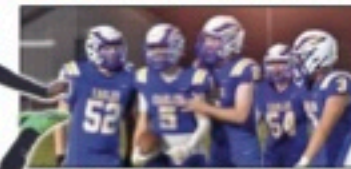

From theater and choir to band, every student deserves space to shine. A new Fine Arts Center will give our band, choir and theater students the performance space they deserve—and give our community a venue for events, celebrations, and connection.

FIELDS OF DREAMS— RIGHT HERE IN WINDOM.

Building on-campus fields for football, soccer, baseball, and softball—along with new wrestling and gymnastics indoor spaces—brings our teams home, creating hometown pride and a safe, reliable place to compete.

THIS PROJECT ISN'T JUST ABOUT BUILDINGS. IT'S ABOUT BELONGING.

Our kids are learning teamwork, discipline, creativity, leadership, and resilience. They deserve facilities that support their growth—on the mat, on the court, under the lights or behind the curtain.

Let's invest in the next generation.
Let's show them we believe in their potential.

VOTE YES. FOR THEM. FOR WINDOM.
