Changes coming to familiar landmark buildings in White Haven and Weatherly

by Seth Isenberg

This new year's changes are starting big in Weatherly. The long-empty Schwab School is now bank-owned. The new owner has started a clean-up of the inside of the property in order to prepare it to be shown. Borough manager Harold Pudliner said the dumpster shown at the entrance is for debris and junk – old stuff in the basement and the like.

A few days ago, crews were at the former Warner's Central Garage, drilling monitoring wells. The business once had in ground tanks for gasoline. The gas pumps closed in the 1990s. The business closed late last year. The property is also bank-owned.

For both these properties, bank-owned means available for sale. With that said, it is possible that both properties may have new owners during 2016.

In White Haven, the former MetroCast storefront in the 200 block of Main Street, vacant since the fall, has a new occupant. The National Sisterhood United for Journeymen Linemen, a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization dedicated to assisting families of fallen or injured IBEW Journeymen Linemen, Utility Linemen, Apprentice Linemen, Ground-men and Operators, is preparing a space for their office.

The new office will be right across the street from The Journal-Herald's office. More details about NSUJL when the office opens.

Be alert, not afraid

by Ruth Isenberg

Some days, if you are paying attention during the national newscasts, you wonder if you should have gotten out of bed in the morning. The news seems to consist of one warning after another—everything from the foods that can kill you, to the weather (that can kill you), to terrorists (who can kill you)...

It's all pretty serious stuff. And there are reasons to pay attention. Unless we know what to watch out for, we can't do much to deal with problems.

Too many media reports focus on the scary parts of the problems that we can't control. That kind of approach breeds fear. A better approach would promote alertness, and propose solutions or at least coping mechanisms. For example, the Zika virus is a serious health threat. Many stories emphasize that the mosquitoes that carry the virus will make their way to the United States. That's important to know, not so we become afraid to go outside, but so we do our part to eliminate standing water where mosquitoes breed.

Fear paralyzes and causes hopelessness. Fear is self-centered. Alertness gives us the opportunity to see the point of view of others, and to lend them a hand. Alertness allows us to develop solutions and avoid danger. Alertness also brings the positive aspects of life to our attention, while fear blinds us to everything but itself.

So listen to the newscasts, but stay alert to common-sense reality. Living in fear is limiting; staying alert is liberating.

Mullery aims to increase fundraising limit

PA State Representative Gerald Mullery (D-Luzerne) introduced legislation that would help ease the reporting and fundraising burdens on club licensees under the Local Option Small Games of Chance Act.

Currently, state law requires clubs with proceeds exceeding $20,000 a year to submit annual reports. These reports provide information on proceeds from each game of chance and the amount of prizes awarded, itemized weekly.

Mullery said his legislation would change that requirement from weekly to quarterly.

"House Bill 1807 does not change the information provided to the state- it simply eases the reporting timeline," Mullery said. "Filling out this necessary paperwork would not be as burdensome for our veteran and fraternal organizations and other nonprofit clubs."

Mullery's bill would increase the fundraising limit from $40,000 annually to $60,000 annually, allowing clubs to satisfy their charitable mission.

WH Ambulance back at Penn Lake

by Seth Isenberg

The White Haven Ambulance will be the first responder to Penn Lake ambulance calls again. Penn Lake borough council voted to restore White Haven Ambulance to "primary" for Basic Life Support-first place on the call list. This due the return to strength of the White Haven organization, which now has 17 volunteers. It is also due to the current primary, Bear Creek/Buck Township ambulance, not being able to respond to calls.

Penn Lake resident and WHAA officer George Wood explained that the White Haven Ambulance had been in Penn Lake for three serious calls recently. The WH Ambulance had to wait to dispatch until Luzerne County 91 tried to get Bear Creek to respond – making three attempts before dispatching White Haven.

During the discussion, it was noted that Advanced Life Support – ALS (paramedics) was still provided by Plains as primary. White Haven offers BLS only.

After discussion, council voted to put the WH Ambulance as primary responder, effective immediately.

Borton-Lawson engineering will supply the new borough engineer for Penn Lake in 2016. They replace Reilly and Associates, who employ Don Totino. Totino served as Penn Lake's engineer for the past three years. The cost of this was questioned. It was understood that there would be little cost difference. Borton-Lawson has provided engineering for the Penn Lake dam for at least two decades. The dam is expected to be the borough's most important engineering issue going forward.

Council voted its first resolution of 2016, that a vacant lot in the borough is charged a sewer availability fee unless the lot has a no-building deed restriction. Discussion of this noted that no building would mean no garages, sheds or gazebos on the restricted property. Borough attorney Jack Dean told the meeting that this deed restriction can be one "for less than $100."

Penn Lake borough council will meet next on Thursday, February 11 at the Penn Lake Community House, beginning with a work session at 7 p.m., with the regular meeting following right afterwards

More on this meeting in next week's Journal-Herald.

WAHS principal Stuart Tripler resigns

by Donnell Stump

The Weatherly Area School Board at the January 13 regular meeting accepted the resignation of High School Principal Stuart Tripler, effective March 4. The position is advertised on the district website at www.weatherlysd.org

The board also accepted the retirement of Stacey Titus, full-time instructional aide, effective January 6.

In other personnel moves, the board hired cafeteria aide substitute Nancy Ehrenfried, effective January 14. Ehrenfried's position is a 10-month 4-3/4 hour per day job with a rate of pay of $8.41 per hour. The board added Elaine Carr to the list of cafeteria aide substitutes.

Gerald Carter was hired as a full-time maintenance mechanic. This position was left vacant by the recent retirement of Rick Miller. Carter will be paid $13.74 per hour plus benefits for this 8 hour per day, 12-month position.

Paul John Hadzick was hired as a full time cleaning aide, 6 hours per day, 10 months at an hourly rate of $9.04. Board member Bill Knepper abstained on the hiring while Georgeann Her-ling voted no. Board members Girard Fewins, Chad Obert, Matt vonFrisch, Brandon Pugh and Amy Potsko voted yes on Hadzick's hiring.

Johanna Dutton was added to the list of substitute teachers, all instructional areas with an emergency permit. Alyssa Myers was also added to the substitute teacher list.

An agreement between the district and Michael Matirko providing for Matirko to act as technology assistant for several days at the beginning of January was okayed. Matirko was paid $10 per hour for the work.

A letter of agreement between the district and Carbon Monroe Pike Drug and Alcohol was approved which provides for drug and alcohol primary prevention services as well as student assistance program and intervention services for the remainder of the 2015-16 school year at a cost to the District of $2,100.

Several recent telephone issues were discussed at the January caucus meeting. According to maintenance supervisor Bill Moyer, the line issues may be "outside" of the district's system. On at least one occasion, the problems experienced within the school phone system were also being experienced at a neighboring business. Board member Gerry Grega asked that it be determined if the "fix" being considered will solve the problem or if it is an "ouside" problem, for which the phone service provider may be responsible.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board will take place on Wednesday, February 10 at 7 p.m. in the Middle School Large Group Instruction Room. The public is welcome to attend.

Veterans Corner by John Kearns

US WAR VETERANS BANISHED FROM OUR NATION

Tijuana, Mexico - They served our United States on battlefields from Korea to Iraq, but now they live in the shadow of the nation they once served and many died for, deported to Mexico for offenses as minor as getting caught with marijuana. These brave fighting men and women were banished from our nation because they were not citizens when they donned the uniform, swore the oath and took up arms for America. Any U.S. obligation to them ended when they got in trouble with the law. What did they do so terrible?

Everyday we see Washington DC releasing bad illegal alien criminals by the truckloads. So why are hundreds of Mexicans who came here legally, then joined our Armed Forces and served with valor and distinction, being deported back to Mexico? Moral Turpitude. Crimes like writing a bad check, a DUI, possessing marijuana or getting into a bar fight are enough to get veterans banished from the nation they fought to protect.

"Many of the men being deported served in Vietnam and didn't get the treatment that they supposed to get from the dysfunctional VA system, or worse are not allowed back in to be treated at a VA Medical Center." Often, noncitizen veterans are deported without even getting to tell their side of the story, said Margaret Stock, an Alaska-based attorney, retired Army lieutenant colonel and West Point professor. Stock has taken on several veterans' deportation cases, and says the situation has become significantly worse under the Obama administration.

Anyone who has served our country and risked his or her lives as a veteran deserves amnesty. There are so many who have done nothing to earn citizenship or provide a military service to our country but are granted blanket amnesty. Misdemeanor US war veterans no, but multi-felony murderers and freeloaders yes? Where is the justice in that?

Reminders of their service and evidence of their patriotism adorn the walls of the shabby Tijuana home known as "The Bunker." Draped in US flags, decorated with military memorabilia, medals and photos, the three-room building is a step up from the cramped apartments many share with fellow "banished veterans." US War veteran Barajas has become a patron saint of deported veterans, his journey to The Bunker is not unique. He moved to the U.S. as a 7-year-old and became a legal resident through his parents. When he was old enough, he joined the U.S. Army, landing in the fabled 82nd Airborne Division where he served from 1995 to 2001. Deported, he now runs The Bunker helping other deported US veterans by providing structure, chores and self-reliance allowing the veterans to tap the discipline they once knew in the US military.

The Bunker exists through the nonprofit deportedveteranssupporthouse.org, he tries to help U.S. vets who show up at his door.

Patriotism still runs deep at The Bunker, where deported US veterans help each other survive. According to FoxNews.com, in one particularly cruel irony, honorably discharged veterans like Barajas remain eligible for VA benefits and medical treatment for injuries suffered during their service, but most of these benefits lie in the U.S. beyond their legal reach. They are still entitled to a military funeral and the VA will pay for the marker ... they cannot return to the United States now, but they can be buried in Arlington. Only then will they given me an American flag and our nation say, 'Thank you for your service."

Up to 6,000 honorably discharged US war veterans who came here legally and served have been banished from our nation. Why the war on veterans? Many suffering war wounds or suffering from the effects of Agent Orange have earned disability and pensions that cannot be paid.

I personally and many other veterans stood side by side with these men and women during our service time, same uniform, same ID and taking the same risks. Like our other heroes stuck in a Leavenworth prison, our government cares nothing for those who served our nation. Punishment is harsh and quick for those who do the right thing. No good deed goes unpunished.

If anyone earned the right to be here in our nation, they did. We can only hope a change in DC will bring back some common sense to those who govern our lives.

Obesity is a serious disease with symptoms that build slowly over an extended period of time. The National Institute of Health defines morbid obesity as being over 100 pounds or more above your ideal body weight, or having a body mass index of 35 or greater, and one or more health-related conditions.

Bariatric surgery, often known as weight loss surgery, is a treatment option for people living with morbid obesity and who are struggling with weight loss.

by Marjorie Lou Anthony

The regular meeting of the Weatherly Senior Citizens Friendship Club was held Thursday, January 28 at 1:30 p.m. in Salem U.C.C. President Marjorie Lou Anthony welcomed 21 members. Chaplain Theresa D'Andrea read Psalm 98, followed by the "Lord's Prayer" and Pledge of Allegiance.

As outreach person, President Anthony sent birthday cards to Joe D'Andrea and Mary Lloyd, and get-well cards to Winky Woods and Thelma Spaziani. There were no anniversaries. Please remember to call President Anthony at 570-443-7736 if you know of any member who is ill or has lost a family member. dues for 2016. Travel coordinator Karen Allen reported on coming trips for this year. She will have more information in The Journal-Herald at a later date.

President Anthony said that the Christmas party was a huge success. The food was delicious, the entertainment - Joe Lapchak – was great, and gifts were received by everyone, thanks to the committee and Mary Lloyd. It was a beautiful December day - we couldn't have asked for anything better.

We held installation of these officers for 2016, with Deacon Ray Wilkinson officiating: President Marjorie Lou Anthony, Vice President Saxon Brazzillo, Secretary Barbara Tissier, Treasurer Joan Chambers, Membership Person Jane Wiskoski, Chaplain Theresa D'Andrea. The chaplain read "You Never Walk Alone."

After the meeting was adjourned we had delicious soups – pea, bean, lentil, potato, and stuffed pepper. Everyone enjoyed trying the different kinds. We thank the soup makers: Karen Allen, Karen Duda, Barbara Tissier, Theresa D'Andrea, Georgeann Herling and Beverly Kunkel, and Irene Elifor the crackers.

Our next meeting, on February 11 at Salem U.C.C., will be a covered dish meeting.

Bingo was enjoyed by all.

Popovich Comedy Pet Theater comes to Kirby Center

International Circus Star and more than 30 shelter rescued pets will visit the Kirby Center on April 5.

Magic City Productions and CrossRhodes Entertainment will welcome Popovich Comedy Pet Theater to the F.M. Kirby Center in Wilkes-Barre on April 5 at 7:30 p.m.

The world famous Popovich Comedy Pet Theater is a family-oriented blend of unique physical comedy, juggling, and balancing skills of internationally acclaimed award winner Gregory Popovich, and the extraordinary talents of his more than 30 pets: house cats, dogs, parrots, geese, and doves. All of the animals have been rescued from the animal shelters across the country.

"I have actually nicknamed my show 'A Second Chance,' because that is what my cats and dogs have been given, a second chance at life," said Popovich, founder of The Comedy Pet Theater and author of "You Can Train Your Cat."

Popovich supports animal rescue shelter across the country and will be donating a percentage of the ticket sales to The Humane Society of America to raise the awareness of rescuing homeless pets. More than 30 rescued pets will be performing on stage as actors in this smash hit. "The main idea of my show and of this tour is to raise awareness in our society about homeless pets," Popovich added.

Throughout the live performance, audiences will witness the Dog Classroom, the Amazing Housecats, and the Animal Train. Other acts will include appearances from ferrets, white rats, trained doves, and more.

When asked how he trains dogs and cats for the show, Popovich explained, "Each animal has a special quirky thing they naturally like to do. I figure out what this trick or talent is, and then I just encourage them to do it in my show. Maple Tree Tapping Day

Everyone is invited to join the Monroe County Conservation District E.E. Center on February 9 at 10 a.m. as they tap maple trees in the Meesing Sugarbush outside of Marshall's Creek. This day is set aside for preparation of the 2016 Maple Sugaring Season. You will have a chance to tap

The Expo will help you put your brand in front of your exact target market- the thousands of potential customers who live, work, and vacation in Carbon County, and who look forward to attending this exciting event every year.

Split Rock's new owners and management have eliminated the entrance toll and have freshened up the facility, making it a premier destination for locals and visitors alike.

This year's Expo is actually a "show within a show," bringing vendors, businesses, home builders and remodelers together with Dr. Lori's Antiques Appraisal Show. Dr. Lori stars as the antiques appraiser on the Discovery channel's hit reality TV show, "Auction Kings" and appears on the FOX Business Network's "Strange Inheritance." She has been featured on NBC's "The Tonight Show" and Comedy Central's "The Daily Show with Jon Stewart." She will be featured in two shows daily.

Expo attendees can watch Dr. Lori's Show for free. Attendees who wish to have items appraised may purchase an appraisal for $25. Dr. Lori will provide tips on how to sell your unwanted stuff for top dollar. Learn the secrets of auctions and how to negotiate to find bargains and why you should not host a yard sale.

Exhibit spaces are available for local businesses to showcase their products or services. Remember, Expo exhibitors are also business owners who shop for products and services from other vendors. The exhibit hall has a wide range of spaces sizes available. For information on exhibiting, contact the Carbon Builders Association at 610-379-1099.

This is your opportunity to put a name on your face for your potential customer. Being at the right place at the right time will help you build new business relationships.

Seth's Sightings by Seth Isenberg

Nice warm days for winter have been melting our snow cover steadily. In the areas where big snows fell, what will soon remain are the giant snow piles left from plowing. By the time this column reaches you, winter normal will have returned. There's more snow in the forecast, so plenty of winter left.

In this month of Valentine's and Presidents' days, there's a lot to be said for it being short. Due to this being a leap year, winter keeps its hold on us one day longer. The early winter darkness, however, is letting go of its grip. It gets dark almost an hour later than in mid-December. Ruth and I like this, but it's not enough. I'm finding myself counting the days until the return of Daylight Savings just before Saint Patrick's Day next month.

Ruth and I walked our dog Chess a couple of afternoons around 5 p.m. as the sun was setting. These sunsets have been beautiful. That beauty was enhanced in that there was no storm threat in those clouds. On one of our other walks, we were on an abandoned railroad bed south of White Haven that leads into a State Gameland. We were the only people who had trod this path since the big snow, so we left our footprints while seeing wild animal tracks of various sorts as we came upon them. Walking along, we experienced pockets of warm, and then in a few feet, pockets of cold. This was actually fun, being able to stand at the edge of one zone and reach into the other. Neither of us are scientific enough to be able to explain this, but we finished our trek having enjoyed some good exercise and this experience.

Other sightings include a beautiful look at a hawk - about 15" tall with beige feathers from chest to the underside of its tail. She had perched on the telephone wires overlooking a field and the road, giving us a great view as we drove past.

We got our hockey fix with two WBS Penguins home games. Lately our home team has been losing, but they played good hockey in losing. There will be hockey in Wilkes-Barre these next couple of weekends - we'll be there.

This past Sunday we went to the snow-postponed performance of the 40-Story Radio Tower show at the Mauch Chunk Opera House. The troupe performed funny radio skits, there was great music, and a short radio story - all around very entertaining. There were plenty of seats for more audience.

Monday night, we tuned in via internet to coverage of the lowa caucuses. It will be our turn in two and a half months. I was leaning towards Martin O'Malley - oh well on that. There'll be some more weeding out on the Republican side after New Hampshire and South Carolina. Then, we'll see who MIGHT be left for us to vote for when it's Pennsylvania's turn. About the Super Bowl, my Charlotte, North Carolina-based brother is happy we're cheering for his team. While not exactly cheering, since my Patriots lost, I'd like them to win. I'm already looking forward to next year, though. The big sports event on my calendar is February 8, when the UConn Lady Huskies take on the South Carolina's Lady Gamecocks in Columbia, SC. This will be way, way better than the presidential primary there. UConn has another recordsetting undefeated streak going of over 50 games and is ranked #1 this year with a 20-0 record. The Lady Gamecocks are also undefeated this year at 21 and 0, are #2 in rankings.

Blind date with a book

During the month of February, the Marian Sutherland Kirby Library will fix you up with a literary blind date. Pick up a "date" from either of the "Blind Date with a Book" displays for adults and teens, check it out, and take it home to unwrap and reveal your surprise date.

Your date might be fiction or nonfiction; a romance, a classic, or thriller. Some large print options will be available as well. Get acquainted with your date by reading the book and fill out the enclosed "Rate Your Date" form and return it to the library. The completed forms will be on display for all to read, and will be entered into a prize drawing for all the adventurous patrons who took a chance on finding a match.

Your date may be disappointing, or you might get lucky and find a new literary love. If you hate your date, you can return the book with no hurt feelings. Go on as many dates as you like, but all "Rate Your Date" forms must be returned by March 5.

For more information, contact 570-474-9313.

Trout Unlimited to host fly fishing speaker at next meeting

Western Pocono Trout Unlimited will hold its regular monthly meeting at 7 p.m. on February 16 at the Carbon County Environmental Education Center at Mauch Chunk Lake near Jim Thorpe. The featured speaker will be veteran fly fishing guide Rick Nyles of Skyblue Outfitters of Reading.

Rick will present a slide program featuring his fishing trips on legendary Montana trout streams like the Bitteroot and Clarks Fork, and PennCreek. Rick has over twenty years experience as a fly fishing guide, and recently won an award from the Orvis Company for his expert fly tying.

Skyblue Outfitters have been a great supporter of Trout Unlimited throughout PA in promoting its conservation mission.

Lady Cougars cool off Lady Comets for WVC win

A chilly shooting night, and a determined Hazleton Area squad cooled off the red-hot Crestwood Lady Comets during Monday night's Wyoming Valley Conference Division I showdown in Wright Township. The Lady Comets hit on just 26.6 percent of their shots, and just couldn't muster up enough magic as Hazleton Area took a huge step toward a second straight Division I championship with a hard-earned, 54-40 victory.

"This was a big one. We knew this was a big one because it's a rivalry, their strength is our weakness inside, and they were hot. They were feeling that if they win, they're right back in this," Hazleton Area head coach Joe Gavio said of the Lady Comets, who had won five of its last six games since falling in Hazleton by 12 (57-45) in early January.

"They were a team that was motivated and hot. They just beat Pittston, and they're playing pretty good," added Gavio.

And the Lady Comets played like it early on. Bolstered by a spirited home crowd on a special "Pink Out" night for cancer awareness, the Lady Comets led the first-place Lady Cougars 13-11 after one quarter of play, but couldn't make it hold up under Hazleton Area's heavy full court pressure

Hazleton Area made up for its own cool shooting night (32 percent) by forcing 21 turnovers, and got a huge effort from junior guard Kendra Pfeil. The 5-foot-7 Pfeil scored a game-high 19 points, grabbed a career-best 14 rebounds and registered eight steals to help trigger the Lady Cougar fast break that ultimately sealed the deal.

Pfeil, who came in averaging 10.5 points per game, broke the Lady Cougars' 0-for-7 dry spell to start the game with a fast break score, along with an old fashioned three-point play. When Alyssa Shamany finished off a break with a basket, Hazleton Area was up 7-2. But as she did all night long, two-time all-state forward Maddie Ritsick brought her team back with her power game in the paint. She scored down low from a Kate Snipas feed, then went to the perimeter to nail a triple and pull the Lady Comets (9-9 overall, 6-4 WVC)

Julia Makowski came off the bench to score off a Ritsick assist, then hit a free throw to put the Lady Comets in front. Ritsick's putback and a free throw in the closing seconds had Crestwood in the lead (13-11) by quarter's end. When the Lady Comets missed their first 10 shots of the second guarter and turned it over three more times, however, Hazleton Area was able to make a run and grab a lead it would never relinquish.

Maddie Mrochko scored two baskets in the lane, Ashley Martincek got a basket on the break, and high-scoring McKenzie Yori got in on the act with her first two baskets - including a three-pointer - that fueled a 12-0 run to put Hazelton Area on top 23-13 five minutes into the second

Wyoming Area won the match's first five bouts, building enough of a lead to hold off a Crestwood comeback in Saturday's 33-27 Wyoming Valley Conference wrestling victory. The Comets made the match interesting after falling behind 21-0 thanks to pinfalls from Tyler Shaud (106), Brandon Rinehimer (126), Anthony Kovalchik (145) and Liam Stone (152). Saige George added a decision win at 138 for the Comets.

Local football landscape continues to change

While Punxsutawney Phil was predicting an early spring during Tuesday's Groundhog Day ceremonies in Western Pennsylvania, most of the talk in the sports world was focusing on football, both locally and nationally.

On the local side, the Anthracite League was officially placed in mothballs as the Schuylkill League adopted the Anthracite Region's high school football teams this week. Anthracite Football League president and Schuylkill League president Stephen Toth called a press conference for this Thursday to officially welcome the Anthracite Football League as a sport in the Schuylkill League. With the transition, the AFL will no longer be called the Anthracite Football League, but will be called Schuylkill League Football.

Additionally, Lehighton School District will serve as the Administrative chair, Jim Thorpe School District will represent the Athletic Directors and Coach Mike Farr, of Schuylkill Haven, will serve as the coaches rep for the league and will be taking over the Football league leadership under the Constitution and By-Laws of the Schuylkill League. The former AFL has also split into two divisions beginning with the 2016 season after welcoming Pottsville into the league.

Blue Mountain, Pottsville, North Schuylkill, Jim Thorpe, Tamaqua and 2015 AFL champion Lehighton will make up Division 1, consisting of the league's bigger schools. Division 2 will include Marian, Mahanoy Area, Shenandoah Valley, Panther Valley, Schuylkill Haven and Minersville.

The league could expand to include other Schuylkill League schools in

CHANGES IN DISTRICT 2 - Although it was only January, officials in District 2 were busy last week talking playoffs for the upcoming 2016 season. Things like a shorter season, an earlier start and more postseason berths for District 2 teams are planned under a high school football playoff proposal by the PIAA. Because the PIAA is allowing districts to choose between a 10game/one-scrimmage schedule and a nine-game/two-scrimmage slate within the 15-week football calendar, it creates a "Week 0" for districts that pick the 10-game format, which District 2 has opted for. Under the previous format, the PIAA operated under a 16-week football calendar.

"This allows each district the ability with Week 0 to have district playoff formats in the best interest of their member schools," PIAA executive director Robert Lombardi said a day after the proposed state brackets for the next two-year cycle were passed on a first-read basis at last week's Board of Directors meeting. "This allows for the expansion for playoffs our member schools wanted." The playoff bracket proposals have to pass three readings to be accepted. The next meeting is March 17. Week 0 means that District 2 teams will actually begin on the PIAA calendar on the second scrimmage date. You'll now have to look at the schedule in District 2 as being in Week 2 when the PIAA calendar is with a free throw and then a high bank shot, and teammate Abby Macko blocked a shot and turned it into two fast-break points as Crestwood was suddenly back within five (23-18). But Mrochko's driving basket in the final minute got the Hazleton Area lead to seven (25-18) at the Crestwood refused to go away, keeping within five on Ritsick's endto-end break and her inside basket off a Macko assist that made it 27-22 three minutes into the third guarter. At that point. Pfeil took over. She scored twice on the break, and in between cut to the basket and scored off a Shamany dish for her own personal 6-0 run that pushed the lead back to 11. It was one of several inside scores that the Lady Cougars were able to get against the taller Lady Comets in the halfcourt offense.

"Taking it to the basket was very important tonight because the shots weren't falling," Pfeil said.

"We really ran our motion well and we were getting layups off it," added Gavio. "We really ran our offense as good as we can run it."

Hazleton Area took a 10-point lead to the fourth quarter before Ritsick scored on a putback to cut it to eight (36-28) with seven minutes to play. But with the fullcourt pressure starting to take its toll on Crestwood, the Lady Cougars began pulling away. Back-to-back steals by Pfeil led to four points by Yori, and a Shamany steal resulted in two Mrochko free throws before Pfeil finished off her own three-point play to cap a 9-0 run that for all intents and purposes, put the game away.

"We didn't play really good tonight, but we gutted it out, and that's what good teams do when you don't have the A-game," Gavio said. "Kendra came through and had a great game. People made plays all over the place. "At this point in the year, with a week to go, it's called Ws, and that's what this was. I'm so proud of our team tonight, because that was a will to win."

Hazleton Area withstood Ritsick's double-double (18 points, 17 rebounds) with better overall balance. Yori finished with 16 points - 11 in the final guarter - and Mrochko chipped in with 11 points.

Makowski had eight points and five rebounds off the bench for the Lady Comets, who are scheduled at Dallas and Berwick on Wednesday and Friday, respectively.

The win was the ninth straight for Hazleton Area (15-2, 9-1), and inched the Lady Cougars closer to what would be a second consecutive conference title. After a Wednesday game with Tunkhannock, they were to face second-place Pittston Area (8-2) in a Friday showdown at

SUPER BOWL TIME - Local football is by no means the only pigskin talk these days. The once-beaten Carolina Panthers and Denver Broncos will hook up in Super Bowl 50 on

The Panthers, who made a serious run at the 1972 Miami Dolphins' undefeated season, have clearly been the top team in the NFL this season. Enthusiastic quarterback Cam Newton has been a big part of their season, but is just one of a number of stars on both sides of the football for the Panthers. Denver's calling card has been defense, and that unit will try to keep the Broncos in the game against the high-scoring Panthers.

This game marks the final one for Denver defensive star Demarcus Ware, who is retiring. It also could be the final rodeo for Hall of Famebound quarterback Peyton Manning, who has hinted on retiring and would like nothing more than to ride off into the sunset with a second Super Bowl

Our call is too much offense and more than enough defense on Carolina's side ... PANTHERS, 31-17.
