Sharing The Joy

Poetry By Cheryl Murph

Some remember a true blessings for what they really are. As early as Ann can remember she was in love with horses, Doc Holliday and Belle Starr.

By age 10 she had been blessed with her second pony and she rode him everyday. There was a group of young girls and all having their ponies pretending to be Cowboys and Indians was their favorite game to play.

As the ponies grew older the girls did too.

All but Ann, got a full grown horse while in elementary school. However Ann grew up in a divorced family so the funds for her a full grown horse just wasn't there.

Besize for Ann's mother to put food on their table and feed a pony was but all she could bare.

Being taught about Jesus and taught to be thankful for what she had, something still on the inside of Ann made her feel belittled and sad.

Was it because her friends maybe looked down on her because her mother couldn't afford to get her a big fast horse like theirs?

Whatever the reason her situation would be changed forever by God, one man and a young girls prayers.

You see Ann's mother met someone who was very kind.

He loved Ann's mother and he loved Ann too.

After a few months had passed he told Ann with her being so tall, selling her short pony may be a wise thing to do.

It was then she was ready to let Lucky go because her biggest dream was about to come true.

He had gotten Ann her full size horse, and she cherished her mare until she became a mother and a wife.

No one but God, the man and Ann will ever know the true blessing her horse Lu,lu made in her life.

Looking back now Ann can see how God was in it, and how even today when he is in it, he will still make a way.

We mustn't give up, we mustn't lose our faith but most of all, we must never forget to pray!

Remember til our paths cross again, Philippians 4:4-10
