Pointers On Protecting Your Packages And Property

(NAPSI)—This holiday season, the Postal Service™ looks forward to delivering a great deal of holiday cheer, along with more than 15 billion mail pieces. The United States Postal Inspection Service®, the federal law enforcement arm of the Postal Service, is working to keep your important shipments safe and prevent mail and parcel theft.

What can you do to ensure your gifts and cards are safe? Postal Inspectors offer six tips to help ensure your important packages reach their destinations and brighten lives this holiday season.

1. Don't leave your delivered mail and packages unattended. Just as you wouldn't leave valuables on the front seat of an unlocked car overnight, mail shouldn't be left sitting in mailboxes or on front porches for any length of time.

2. Going out of town? Hold your mail at your local Post Office. If you plan on taking a trip or know you won't be able to check your mail for a few days, use the USPS Hold Mail service on usps.com. Your mail will be held securely at your Post Office until you pick it up or request delivery to your home.

3. Plan ahead. Ship using Hold for Pickup. When shipping packages, the Hold for Pickup option means recipients can collect their packages at their local Post Offices. If you are expecting a package, you can redirect it to your local Post Office by selecting Hold for Pickup using Intercept a Package under Track & Manage on usps.com.

4. Customize the delivery. If you know the package will not fit in your mailbox and you won't be home to receive it, you can authorize the carrier to leave it in a specified location. Visit usps.com, enter the tracking number in Track a Package, and select Delivery Instructions.

5. Secure the shipment using USPS Special Services. Signature Confirmation requires a signature at the time of delivery. For your most valuable packages, you can opt for Registered Mail service. Registered Mail receives special handling from the time it's mailed until the time it's delivered, with documentation every step of the way.

6. Monitor your front door. If you have a home security camera system and you catch any mail thieves in the act, save the video and alert your local Postal Inspectors.

For more great tips you can use not just during the holidays, but all year long, visit: usps.gov.

I

Sharing The Joy
Poetry By Cheryl Murph

I woke up this morning with my mind racing wild as I thought about all the things I had to do.
If I get started right now, chances are at 8:00 tonight I still won't be through.
Phones calls to make, bills to pay and places I have to go.
As my blood pressure rises, my feelings of anxiety and frustration begin to show.
I remind myself of one of those little hamster's in a wheel going fast as I can but ending up no where.
My coffee's cold, mana-pause is in full bloom,
I haven't even brushed my teeth much less my hair.
I have managed to create my own hugh bubble of stress!
If anyone seen me right now, especially my friends they would say girl, you ain't nothin but a hot mess!
Then as always, just when I feel so fed up, my Lord calmly whispers, why are you making this day so much harder than it has to be?
You know you would be much more at peace and ready to conquer the world had you only talked with me.
Remember my child, there is no room for me when all you think about is you.
I am here every morning to listen to your prayers and help you learn in my word.
Is making time for me really that hard to do?
Not you but "I" can fill your heart with joy each morning and give you the assurance you desperately need.
Remember which one of us it is that loose's contact?
May I suggest you forget about "I" and remember "ME" !

Remember til our paths cross again, Philippians 4:4-10
